26.10.2026: In this Company Appeal, orders were reserved on the interim application. Today, this matter has been directed to be listed for clarification, owing to the fact that, during the course of dictation, we found that the appeal itself could be heard on merits and decided as deciding interim application would be as good as deciding the appeal itself. Hence, the matter has been posted before us.

2. The learned counsel for the Appellant is present. None appears for the Respondent. The counsel for the Appellant wants to place on record clarifications pertaining to certain allegations levelled by way of a counter. He is permitted to do so by way of written submissions, which are to be filed within a period of one week from today.

3. "Judgment reserved."
