MANAGING DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

"A fabric derives its strength not from a single thread, but from every thread woven together with care and precision. Over the years, I have come to believe that building an institution follows the same principle. Every relationship we nurture, every improvement we make, every decision we take and every individual who contributes to this organisation becomes part of a larger story that defines who we are."

A Legacy Built on Craftsmanship

For nearly eight decades, VTM Limited has grown with a clear purpose - to deliver quality through consistency, craftsmanship and integrity. Our journey has never been driven by scale alone, but by the enduring relationships we have built with our customers, employees and stakeholders.

Every visit to our manufacturing facility reinforces this belief. Beyond the machinery and processes lies the dedication of people who have perfected their craft over decades. Their commitment, together with our culture of quality and discipline, continues to define the character of VTM.

Staying Focused Amid Change

FY2025-26 was a year marked by geopolitical uncertainties, raw material volatility and evolving global trade dynamics. While such conditions tested the textile industry, they also reaffirmed the importance of long-term thinking.

During the year, we consciously prioritised customer relationships, business continuity and future investments over short-term financial outcomes. We believe trust, once earned, becomes a lasting competitive advantage, and preserving that trust remains central to every decision we make.

Strengthening the Foundations for Growth

India's emergence as a preferred global sourcing destination presents significant opportunities for manufacturers with strong technical capabilities and reliable execution.

At VTM, we continued to invest in advanced weaving infrastructure, capacity enhancement and operational improvements to strengthen manufacturing flexibility and product capabilities. Simultaneously, we expanded our focus on value-added fabrics and made-ups, enabling us to respond more effectively to changing customer requirements and market opportunities.

We also continued to diversify our export presence beyond traditional markets into regions including Europe, Japan, the United Kingdom and Australia, strengthening both our customer base and long-term business resilience.

Growing Responsibly

Responsible manufacturing has become an integral part of our business philosophy. Improving operational efficiency, optimising resource utilisation and maintaining strong governance standards are essential to building a sustainable organisation.

Equally, our greatest strength continues to be our people. Their experience, dedication and shared commitment to excellence have enabled VTM to navigate changing market conditions while preserving the values that have guided us for decades.

I extend my sincere appreciation to our employees, customers, suppliers, business partners, bankers and shareholders for their continued confidence and support. Their trust remains one of our greatest assets.

Looking Ahead

The long-term outlook for the Indian textile industry remains encouraging, supported by India's growing role in global supply chains, increasing demand for premium home textiles and the global shift towards responsible sourcing.

As we move forward, our priorities remain unchanged—to strengthen our manufacturing capabilities, expand our value-added portfolio, improve productivity and deepen customer relationships while maintaining disciplined and sustainable growth.

The story of VTM has never been shaped by a single achievement. It has been built through thousands of meaningful contributions made every day by our people, our customers and our partners. Those individual efforts, woven together over time, continue to strengthen the foundation of our Company and will guide us as we create enduring value for the years ahead.

Warm Regards,
Hari Thiagarajan
Managing Director
VTM Limited

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER'S MESSAGE

"Behind every metre of fabric produced at VTM lies a series of carefully considered financial decisions—from investing in technology and capacity to managing costs, cash flows and capital with discipline. While these decisions may not be visible on the shop floor, they form the foundation of our resilience and our ability to create sustainable value. FY2025–26 reaffirmed that disciplined financial stewardship remains one of VTM's greatest strengths."

Balancing Growth with Financial Discipline

FY2025–26 was a year that demanded measured decision-making. Volatility in cotton prices, changing trade dynamics, currency fluctuations and higher logistics costs created a challenging operating environment for the textile industry. In such circumstances, our priority extended beyond protecting short-term profitability—we remained focused on preserving financial stability while continuing to invest in VTM's long-term competitiveness.

Rather than responding with short-term measures, we chose to strengthen customer relationships, maintain operational continuity and continue investing in capabilities that will support sustainable growth in the years ahead.

Strengthening the Financial Fabric

Our financial performance reflected the resilience of VTM's diversified business model. While external headwinds temporarily impacted margins, our greige fabrics and made-ups businesses continued to provide a balanced revenue mix and reinforce the Company's long-term growth potential.

Across the organisation, significant emphasis was placed on improving manufacturing efficiency, optimising procurement and strengthening cost discipline.

Continuous operational improvements helped mitigate inflationary pressures while enhancing productivity and supporting overall financial performance.

Working capital management remained another key focus area. Through disciplined inventory planning, prudent receivables management and tighter cash flow monitoring, we continued to improve capital efficiency without compromising customer service or operational continuity.

Investing for Tomorrow

Every investment undertaken by VTM is evaluated not only for its financial return but also for its strategic value. During the year, we continued investing in advanced weaving technology, capacity enhancement and productivity improvement initiatives that will strengthen manufacturing flexibility, improve quality consistency and support higher value-added products. These investments reflect our belief that prudent capital allocation is about creating long-term competitiveness while preserving financial strength.

Equally, our disciplined approach to liquidity management, leverage and capital deployment has enabled the Company to maintain a strong financial foundation, providing the flexibility to navigate uncertainty while pursuing future growth opportunities with confidence.

Building Enduring Value

Risk management remains integral to our financial philosophy. Foreign exchange movements, raw material price volatility and changing global trade dynamics require continuous monitoring and timely action. By strengthening treasury management, procurement discipline and financial controls, we continue to build resilience into the business while reducing exposure to external uncertainties.

As we expand our presence across newer international markets and strengthen our value-added product portfolio, disciplined financial management will continue to underpin every strategic decision.

Looking Ahead

The fundamentals of VTM remain strong. Supported by disciplined capital allocation, operational excellence and a prudent financial approach, we are well positioned to capitalise on emerging opportunities while maintaining long-term financial stability.

I extend my sincere appreciation to our finance team, colleagues across the organisation, customers, suppliers, bankers and shareholders for their continued trust and support. Their confidence inspires us to remain focused on creating sustainable value through every decision we make.

As we move into FY2026–27, we do so with confidence in our financial foundations and a clear commitment to building a stronger, more resilient VTM for the years ahead.

Warm Regards,
P. Senthil Kumar

During the year under review, the Company achieved an impressive turnover of ₹37,198.13 lakhs for the financial year ended 31st March 2026, as compared to ₹34,452.68 lakhs in the previous financial year, reflecting 7.97% year-on-year growth. Export turnover stood at ₹ 23,003.63 lakhs, accounting for 61.84 % of the total turnover, as against ₹ 22,088.34 lakhs in FY 2024-2025, The company has been able to maintain export sales at previous levels, and this safeguarded our market presence and ensured continuity in operations in a highly volatile global environment.

Despite challenging global trade conditions arising from increased tariff barriers, geopolitical tensions, and war related disruption in the international markets, compared with peer companies in the industry, our company has shown better sales volumes. Company successfully sustained its export performance through timely execution of orders and consistent product quality.

The Company registered a remarkable sales turnover of ₹ 19,197.67 lakhs from the Home Textiles segment alone, backed by consistent innovation in product development and design. The positive reception continued from international customers underscores our competitive edge and reinforces our position as a preferred supplier in niche overseas markets.

The company successfully maintained home textiles export sales better than previous year's level, safeguarded our market presence and ensured continuity of operations in a highly volatile global environment compared with the peer companies in the industry. Our company has shown better stability in sales volumes, customer retention, operational execution, export order management despite adverse international trade conditions.

Maintaining export sales at the previous year's level under the prevailing challenging circumstance reflects the resilience of the company's business model, strength of customer relationship and adaptability to changing global dynamics.

Despite severe challenges arising from increased tariffs, war related global disruptions, pressure on export margin, our company has demonstrated a resilient performance during the year.

The Company posted a Profit After Tax (PAT) of ₹1119.58 lakhs for the year ended 31st March 2026, from ₹4537.41 lakhs in the previous year.

This year profitability was significantly impacted due to the additional tariff burden and adverse global trade conditions arising from geopolitical conflicts and war-related disruptions. Global uncertainties caused by ongoing war situations resulted in higher logistics cost, shipping disruptions, extended transit periods, volatility in price and currency led to margin pressures. These factors collectively affected profitability during the year.

The decline in profit during the year is primarily attributable to the exceptional tariff burden and war-related global economic disruptions rather than any reduction in operational efficiency or demand for the Company's products.

Despite facing volatile global economic conditions influenced by geopolitical tensions, inflationary pressures, and fluctuating demand trends, your Company has delivered reasonable financial performance. The domestic market has also shown signs of recovery, although exports—especially in Home Textiles—have continued to be the key driver of growth.

Despite increased manufacturing expenses and high volatility in export markets, we hope Our industry may witness certain positive developments. Global buyers are increasingly looking to diversify sourcing bases and ensure supply chain stability, continuity and reduce dependency on sensitive regions. India with its manufacturing strong base, integrated value chain is well positioned to benefit from this shift. Your Directors are optimistic about achieving better results in the coming years.

During the last year, the foreign exchange scenario remained volatile with significant depreciation of the Indian rupee against major currencies, especially 9.5% depreciation against USD. The expected benefits arising out of depreciation were substantially offset by impact of increase in tariff and increase in cost of material due to the US Iran ongoing war.

Directors foresee a comparatively favorable market environment during the current year.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS

Global Economic Overview

Global Economy: Navigating Growth Amid Trade Realignment and Geopolitical Uncertainty

The global economy entered 2026 with resilient underlying fundamentals, although growth continued to moderate amid heightened geopolitical tensions, evolving trade policies and elevated uncertainty surrounding global supply chains. While inflationary pressures eased across several advanced economies, renewed energy market volatility, protectionist trade measures and regional conflicts continued to weigh on business confidence and investment decisions.

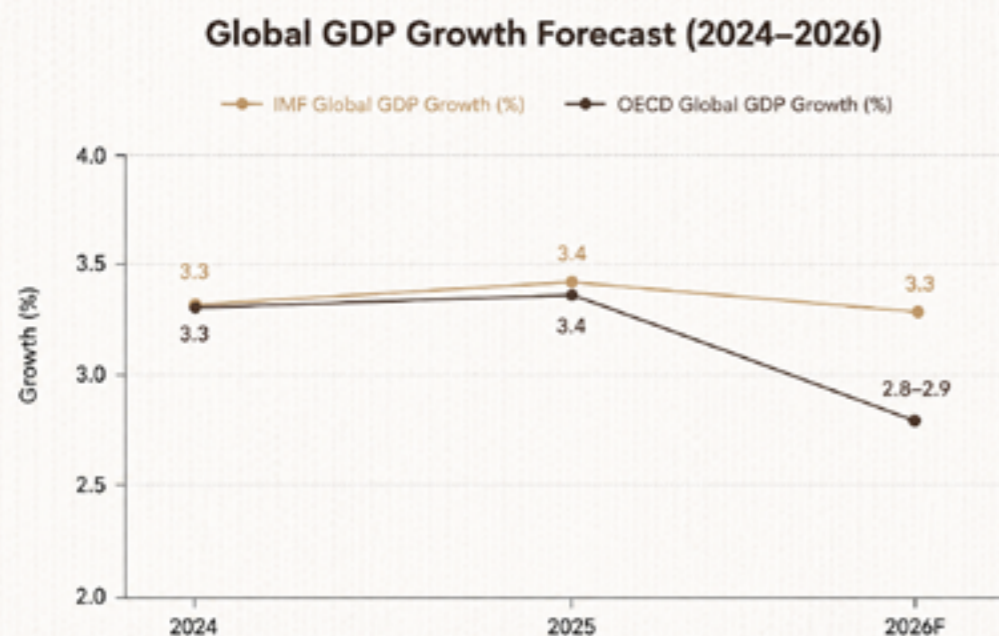

According to the International Monetary Fund (IMF), global economic growth is projected at approximately 3.3% in 2026, supported by resilient labour markets, continued technology-led investments and improving financial conditions. However, the IMF cautions that increasing trade fragmentation and geopolitical risks remain key downside factors that could affect global growth prospects.

The OECD, in its latest Economic Outlook, presents a more cautious assessment, projecting global GDP growth of around 2.8–2.9% in 2026, reflecting the impact of persistent trade uncertainties, higher energy prices and disruptions arising from geopolitical conflicts. The report notes that while artificial intelligence, digital investments and easing monetary conditions continue to support economic activity, prolonged geopolitical disruptions could significantly weaken global demand and investment.

Global manufacturing activity remained uneven across regions. Advanced economies continued to experience slower industrial production amid subdued consumer demand and higher financing costs, whereas emerging economies—particularly India and several ASEAN nations—benefited from supply chain diversification, manufacturing investments and expanding domestic consumption.

International trade is undergoing structural realignment as multinational corporations diversify sourcing strategies beyond traditional manufacturing hubs. This shift has accelerated the adoption of the “China+1” strategy, creating opportunities for countries such as India, Vietnam and Indonesia to strengthen their role in global manufacturing and exports. Commodity markets remained volatile throughout the year. Energy prices fluctuated sharply due to geopolitical developments in the Middle East and disruptions to global shipping routes, while agricultural commodities and industrial raw materials also witnessed increased price volatility. These factors continued to influence production costs across manufacturing industries, including textiles.

For the global textile and home furnishing industry, inventory levels across major retailers largely normalised during the year, leading to a gradual recovery in procurement activity. Nevertheless, buyers remained focused on supply chain resilience, sustainability, shorter lead times and reliable manufacturing partners. Increasing emphasis on responsible sourcing, product traceability and ESG compliance continued to reshape global procurement practices. Against this backdrop, India further strengthened its position as a preferred global sourcing destination, supported by its integrated textile ecosystem, competitive manufacturing base, expanding trade partnerships and favourable demographic profile. These structural advantages continue to create long-term opportunities for export-oriented textile manufacturers.

Outlook

Global growth remained resilient despite elevated geopolitical and trade uncertainties. Emerging economies continued to anchor global manufacturing expansion. Cotton price volatility and higher input costs weighed on textile manufacturers worldwide.

Sustainability, supply chain diversification, and trade agreements emerged as defining themes for the global textile industry.

India's structural strengths position it to capture a greater share of global textile sourcing over the medium to long term.

While the global economy continued to navigate a complex macroeconomic environment, India remained one of the fastest-growing major economies, supported by robust domestic demand, policy reforms, infrastructure investments, and a strengthening manufacturing ecosystem. These factors have reinforced India's position as a preferred destination for textile production and exports, providing a favourable backdrop for companies such as VTM Limited.

Indian Economic Overview

India: Sustaining Growth Through Domestic Resilience

India continued to reinforce its position as the world's fastest-growing major economy during FY2025–26, demonstrating remarkable resilience despite heightened geopolitical uncertainties, evolving global trade dynamics, and intermittent commodity price volatility. Strong domestic consumption, sustained public capital expenditure, healthy corporate balance sheets, expanding manufacturing activity, and a resilient financial system collectively underpinned the country's growth trajectory.

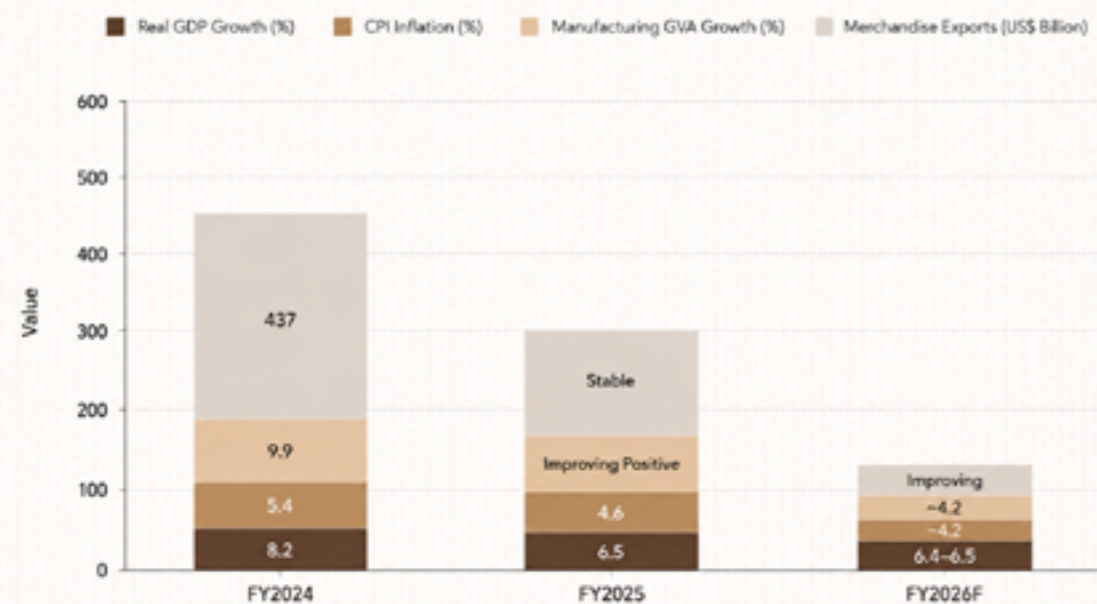

According to the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI), India's real GDP is estimated to have grown by 7.7% in FY2025–26, compared with 7.1% in FY2024–25, while real Gross Value Added (GVA) expanded by 7.9%, reflecting broad-based growth across manufacturing, construction and services. Robust private consumption and investment remained the principal demand-side drivers, with Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF) registering double-digit growth during the fourth quarter.

The manufacturing sector continued to benefit from government initiatives such as Make in India, the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme, the PM Gati Shakti National Master Plan, and ongoing investments in logistics and industrial infrastructure. Simultaneously, easing inflationary pressures and supportive monetary conditions strengthened consumer confidence and supported discretionary spending across sectors.

For India's textile industry, these macroeconomic fundamentals translated into improving domestic demand, expanding export competitiveness through new trade agreements, and continued policy support for manufacturing-led growth. The country's integrated textile ecosystem, abundant cotton availability, skilled workforce, and growing emphasis on sustainability further enhanced its attractiveness as a preferred global sourcing destination.

India's Macroeconomic Snapshot

India's Key Economic Indicators (FY2024–FY2026F)

Source: Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation (MoSPI)

Outlook

Despite global economic uncertainties, the structural outlook for India remains favourable. Continued investments in infrastructure, manufacturing competitiveness, logistics and export promotion are expected to strengthen India's role in global supply chains. These macroeconomic tailwinds provide a supportive environment for textile manufacturers to expand capacity, enhance value addition and strengthen their presence across domestic and international markets.

Industry Overview

Global Textile Industry Overview

A Structural Transformation Creating New Opportunities for Integrated Manufacturers
The global textile industry is navigating one of its most significant structural transformations in recent decades. Once driven primarily by cost competitiveness and production scale, the industry is increasingly being shaped by supply chain resilience, sustainability, digitalisation, product innovation and evolving consumer preferences. While macroeconomic uncertainties, geopolitical tensions and inflationary pressures influenced global demand during FY2025–26, the industry's long-term fundamentals remain robust, supported by rising population, urbanisation, increasing disposable incomes and expanding middle-class consumption across emerging economies.

According to Grand View Research, the global textile market was valued at approximately US$1.16 trillion in 2025 and is expected to reach US$1.61 trillion by 2033, growing at a CAGR of 4.2%. Asia-Pacific continues to dominate the industry, accounting for nearly 50% of global textile revenues, supported by its integrated manufacturing ecosystem, abundant labour availability and strong export capabilities. Cotton remains the largest raw material segment, while household textiles, apparel and technical textiles continue to drive industry growth.

Beyond market expansion, the industry's competitive landscape is also evolving. Global brands are no longer evaluating suppliers solely on pricing but increasingly prioritising quality consistency, manufacturing reliability, ESG compliance, traceability, shorter lead times and supply chain resilience. This transition is encouraging manufacturers to invest in automation, digital manufacturing, sustainable production practices and product innovation, enabling them to move up the value chain and build long-term customer partnerships.

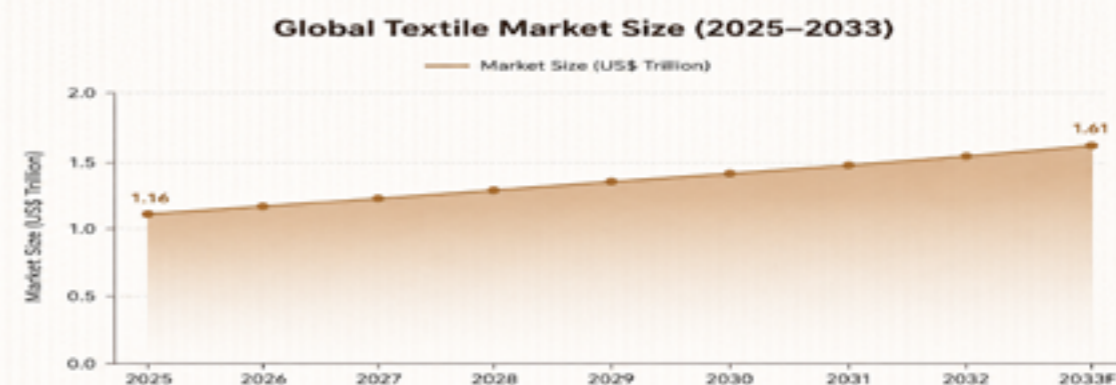

Changing Global Trade Dynamics

Global sourcing patterns continued to evolve during FY2025–26 as geopolitical developments, tariff changes and supply chain disruptions prompted international retailers and brands to diversify procurement strategies. The "China+1" sourcing model has transitioned from a risk-mitigation strategy to a long-term structural shift, with India, Vietnam, Bangladesh and Türkiye emerging as key alternative manufacturing destinations.

At the same time, buyers are increasingly favouring suppliers capable of offering vertically integrated operations, flexible production capabilities and consistent quality while maintaining compliance with evolving environmental and social standards. Rather than relying on a single sourcing geography, multinational retailers are building diversified supplier networks to enhance resilience against geopolitical risks and logistics disruptions. Recent geopolitical events have further reinforced the importance of visibility, inventory planning and supplier diversification across global textile supply chains.

For export-oriented manufacturers, these developments present opportunities to strengthen long-term customer relationships by offering reliability, operational flexibility and value-added solutions instead of competing purely on cost.

Outlook

The global textile industry is transitioning from a volume-driven model to one centred on value creation, resilience and responsible manufacturing. Manufacturers that combine operational excellence, product innovation, sustainability and strong customer relationships will be better positioned to capture emerging opportunities in an increasingly competitive marketplace.

For integrated textile manufacturers, this evolving landscape presents an opportunity not only to expand global market presence but also to strengthen their position as trusted long-term partners within international supply chains.

Global Home Textile Industry

Elevating Everyday Living Through Design, Comfort and Sustainability

The global home textile industry has evolved from a functional household necessity into a lifestyle-driven market shaped by changing consumer preferences, urbanisation, premiumisation and sustainability. Rising disposable incomes, increasing residential construction, hospitality expansion and growing consumer focus on home aesthetics have transformed home textiles into an essential component of modern living. Consumers today seek products that combine comfort, durability, design, functionality and environmental responsibility, driving demand for high-quality bedding, bath linen, curtains, blankets and decorative furnishings.

According to Grand View Research, the global home textile market was valued at US$137.8 billion in 2025 and is projected to grow to US$231.4 billion by 2033, registering a CAGR of 6.9% during 2026–2033. Asia-Pacific accounted for the largest share of the global market at 43.6% in 2025, reflecting the region's strong manufacturing base, expanding consumer markets and growing export capabilities.

The industry's growth is being supported by multiple structural drivers, including rising home ownership, increasing renovation activity, expanding organised retail, rapid e-commerce penetration and greater consumer spending on premium home décor. At the same time, hotels, healthcare institutions, serviced apartments and commercial real estate continue to generate steady demand for institutional-grade home textile products, broadening the industry's addressable market.

Evolution of Consumer Preferences

Consumer buying behaviour has undergone a significant transformation over the past decade. Purchasing decisions are increasingly influenced by product quality, comfort, design aesthetics and sustainability credentials rather than price alone. Premium bedding collections, coordinated home décor solutions, organic cotton products and eco-friendly materials continue to gain popularity across developed and emerging markets.

Digital commerce has further accelerated this shift by enabling consumers to access wider product assortments, compare brands and make informed purchasing decisions. International retailers are responding by expanding premium product portfolios and strengthening relationships with manufacturers capable of delivering differentiated products with shorter lead times and consistent quality.

Another defining trend is the growing preference for certified and responsibly manufactured products. Global consumers increasingly value products carrying certifications such as OEKO-TEX®, Better Cotton and other sustainability standards, reflecting heightened awareness of environmental and social considerations throughout the textile value chain.

Key Growth Drivers

The long-term outlook for the home textile industry continues to be supported by several structural growth drivers:

Urbanisation and Housing Development

Rapid urbanisation, rising home ownership and increasing investments in residential construction continue to stimulate demand for bedding, bath linen, curtains and decorative furnishings.

Premiumisation of Living Spaces

Consumers are increasingly investing in premium home furnishings that offer superior comfort, aesthetics and durability. This trend is particularly evident in developed markets and among middle-income households in emerging economies.

Growth in Hospitality and Tourism

Expansion of hotels, serviced apartments, resorts and healthcare infrastructure continues to drive institutional demand for hospitality linen, towels, bed linen and specialised textile products.

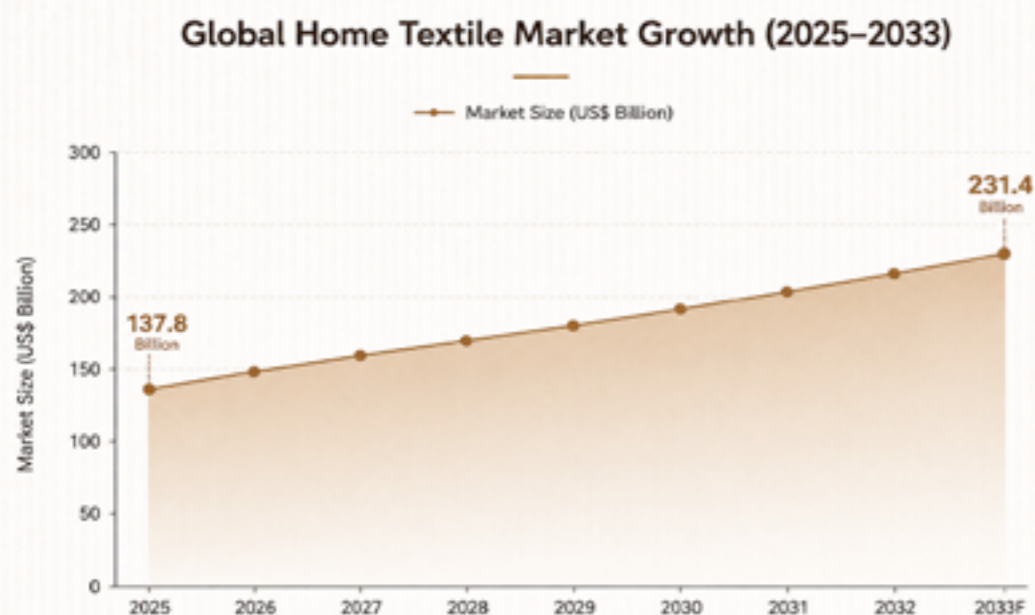

Rise of E-commerce

Online retail platforms have expanded product accessibility while enabling manufacturers to reach broader customer segments across domestic and international markets.

Sustainability and Responsible Consumption

Growing awareness of environmental issues is encouraging demand for responsibly sourced, recyclable and sustainably manufactured home textile products, prompting manufacturers to adopt cleaner production processes and greater supply chain transparency.

India has established itself as one of the world's leading manufacturers and exporters of home textile products, supported by a well-integrated textile ecosystem, abundant cotton availability, competitive manufacturing capabilities and strong relationships with global retailers. The country is among the largest suppliers of bed linen, bath linen, kitchen linen and made-ups to key international markets, including the United States, Europe and the Middle East.

India's home textile segment also maintained healthy growth momentum, supported by rising urbanisation, premiumisation trends, organised retail expansion and increasing consumer spending on home decor and lifestyle products. The Indian home textile market reached approximately USD 4.51 billion in 2025 and is projected to grow steadily over the long term, supported by strong demand across bed linen, bath linen and furnishing products.

The Indian home textile industry is witnessing sustained growth, driven by rising urbanisation, increasing disposable incomes, premiumisation of living spaces and expanding hospitality and real estate sectors. Growing consumer preference for quality, comfort and aesthetically designed products has accelerated demand for value-added home furnishings across both domestic and international markets.

India's competitive advantage lies in its vertically integrated manufacturing base, skilled workforce and ability to offer a diverse product portfolio across cotton-based home textiles. Coupled with supportive government initiatives, improving logistics infrastructure and increasing adoption of sustainable manufacturing practices, the industry is well positioned to benefit from global supply chain diversification and rising demand for responsibly manufactured products.

The hospitality sector also continues to be a significant growth catalyst. Greige Fabric Industry Overview

Greige Fabrics: The Foundation of the Textile Value Chain

Greige fabric, commonly referred to as grey fabric, represents the primary woven fabric produced directly from yarn before undergoing bleaching, dyeing, printing or finishing. It forms the foundation of the textile value chain and serves as a critical intermediate product for a wide range of downstream applications, including apparel, home textiles, industrial textiles and technical textiles.

As global textile consumption continues to evolve, demand for high-quality greige fabrics is increasingly being driven by manufacturers seeking consistent quality, dimensional stability, weaving precision and faster turnaround times. Buyers are placing greater emphasis on suppliers capable of delivering customised fabric constructions, superior weaving standards and dependable supply chain execution.

India has established itself as one of the world's largest producers of woven cotton fabrics, supported by an integrated textile ecosystem, abundant cotton availability, advanced weaving infrastructure and a skilled workforce. The country's strong weaving base, particularly in cotton fabrics, positions it as a preferred sourcing destination for international processors, home textile manufacturers and garment exporters.

For VTM Limited, greige fabrics represent a strategic pillar of its integrated business model. The Company's weaving capabilities, supported by advanced Air Jet, Sulzer, Rapier Leno and Jacquard looms, enable it to manufacture premium-quality greige fabrics catering to both domestic and international markets. During FY2025-26, greige fabrics contributed approximately ₹162 crore to the Company's revenue, reaffirming their importance within the overall product portfolio.

Global Woven Fabric Industry

The global woven fabric industry continues to benefit from growing demand across apparel, home furnishings, hospitality, healthcare and industrial applications. Although macroeconomic uncertainties temporarily affected textile demand in several developed economies, inventory normalisation and improving consumer spending supported a gradual recovery in woven fabric consumption during FY2025-26.

Increasing emphasis on sustainable sourcing, premium fabric quality and shorter lead times has encouraged international buyers to diversify procurement towards reliable manufacturing destinations such as India.

Role and Responsibilities

The Committee's foremost priorities are to ensure that the Company has the best possible leadership and maintains a clear plan for both Executive and Non-Executive Director succession. Criteria for appointments and independence of Directors

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of VTM Limited

Report on the audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of VTM Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the balance sheet as at March 31, 2026, the statement of profit and loss (including other comprehensive income), the statement of changes in equity and the statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act 2013 ("Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended from time to time, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2026, its profits, total comprehensive income, the changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended as on that date.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards on auditing (SAs) specified under section 143 (10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the code of ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's code of ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report:

The Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter
Revenue from the sale of textile products (including fabric and garments) is recognized when control of the goods is transferred to the customer in accordance with the performance obligation agreed in the contract with the customers. This typically occurs upon delivery or shipment depending on the specific contractual terms (Incoterms) with domestic and international customers. We identified revenue recognition as a key audit matter because: (a) Volume and Complexity: The Company processes a high volume of transactions with diverse pricing structures, discounts, and incentives. (b) Cut-off Risk: There is a significant risk regarding the timing of revenue recognition, specifically whether revenue is recorded in the correct accounting period, particularly for exports in transit at the year-end. (c) Performance Targets: The pressure to meet financial targets may create an incentive to recognize revenue prematurely.	Our audit procedures to address the risk of material misstatement in revenue recognition included, but were not limited to, the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Internal Controls: We evaluated the design and tested the operating effectiveness of key internal financial controls over the revenue cycle, including order acceptance, shipping, invoicing and recording of sales. • IT Systems: We tested the general IT controls and relevant automated application controls within the ERP system governing the revenue process. • Contract Review: We examined a sample of significant sales contracts and shipping terms to verify the point of transfer of control in accordance with Ind AS 115, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. • Cut-off Testing: We performed rigorous cut-off procedures by selecting samples of sales transactions recorded immediately before and after the balance sheet date. We inspected underlying documents such as Goods Outward Notes (GON), Lorry Receipts (LR) and Bills of Lading to ensure revenue was recognized in the appropriate period. • Credit Notes: We reviewed credit notes issued and sales returns processed subsequent to the year-end to ensure there was no overstatement of revenue for the reporting period. • Circularization: We sent independent balance confirmations to a representative sample of trade receivables to verify the existence and accuracy of outstanding balances.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's and those charged with governance's responsibility for the financial statements

The Company's Board of Directors (those charged with governance) is responsible for the matters stated in section 134 (5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance including other comprehensive income, cash flows and changes in equity of the Company in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended from time to time, and other accounting principles generally accepted in India.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

The management is responsible to ensure that the accounting software used by the Company for maintaining its books of account has the features of (a) recording an audit trail of each and every transaction and (b) creating an edit log of each change made in the books of account along with the date when such changes are made. The management is also responsible to ensuring that the audit trail is not disabled.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors (those charged with governance) are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure “B” to the Independent Auditor’s Report

(Referred to in paragraph 2 (f) under ‘Report on other legal and regulatory requirements’ section of our report to the Members of VTM Limited of even date)

Report on the internal financial controls over financial reporting under clause (i) of sub - section 3 of section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of VTM Limited (“the Company”) as at March 31, 2026, in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management’s responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors’ responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the standards on auditing prescribed under Section 143 (10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those standards and the guidance note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement in the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial control system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over financial reporting

A company’s internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;

(ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management of override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion and according to the information and explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial control system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

The financial statements are approved for issue by the Company's Board of Directors on May 22, 2026

2A Critical accounting estimates and management judgments

In application of the accounting policies, which are described in note 2, the management of the Company is required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant.

Information about significant areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgements used in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements is included in the following notes:

Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE)

The residual values and estimated useful life of PPEs and Intangible Assets are assessed by the technical team at each reporting date by taking into account the nature of asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating condition of the asset, past history of replacement and maintenance support. Upon review, the management accepts the assigned useful life and residual value for computation of depreciation/amortisation.

Current tax

Calculations of income taxes for the current period are done based on applicable tax laws and management's judgement by evaluating positions taken in tax returns and interpretations of relevant provisions of law.

Deferred Tax Assets

Significant management judgement is exercised by reviewing the deferred tax assets at each reporting date to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be retained/ recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies.

Fair value

Management uses valuation techniques in measuring the fair value of financial instruments where active market quotes are not available. In applying the valuation techniques, management makes maximum use of market inputs and uses estimates and assumptions that are, as far as possible, consistent with observable data that market participants would use in pricing the instrument. Where applicable data is not observable, management uses its best estimate about the assumptions that market participants would make. These estimates may vary from the actual prices that would be achieved in an arm's length transaction at the reporting date.

Impairment of Trade Receivables

The impairment assessment for trade receivables are done based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The assumptions, selection of inputs for calculation of impairment are based on management judgement considering the past history, market conditions and forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting date.

Impairment of Non-financial assets (PPE)

The impairment assessment of non-financial assets is determined based on estimation of recoverable amount of such assets. The assumptions used in computing the recoverable amount are based on management judgement considering the timing of future cash flows, discount rates and the risks specific to the asset.

Defined Benefit Plans and Other long term employee benefits

The cost of the defined benefit plan and other long term employee benefits, and the present value of such obligation are determined by the independent actuarial valuer. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in future. Management believes that the assumptions used by the actuary in determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and attrition rates are reasonable. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long term nature, this obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities could not be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, management uses valuation techniques including the Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) model, to determine its fair value. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is exercised in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility.

Provisions and contingencies

The recognition and measurement of other provisions are based on the assessment of the probability of an outflow of resources, and on past experience and circumstances known at the reporting date. The actual outflow of resources at a future date may therefore vary from the figure estimated at end of each reporting period.

2B Recent accounting pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs (“MCA”) notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2026, MCA has modified the existing Ind AS 1, which deals with the presentation of financial statements. The amendments clarify the classification of liabilities as current or non current when an entity breaches a condition of a long term loan arrangement on or before the reporting date. Specifically, if a covenant breach exists such that the liability becomes payable on demand at the reporting date, the liability must be classified as current, regardless of whether the lender subsequently agrees (after the reporting date but before the financial statements are approved) not to demand payment. These amendments are applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 1, 2026.

The Company made an assessment of the possible impact of the above amendments, to the extent applicable to the Company, and concluded that the above amendments will not have any significant impact on the Company on a go-forward basis.

3 Material Accounting Policy Information

a) Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- i) Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- ii) Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- iii) Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- iv) Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- i) It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- ii) It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
- iii) It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- iv) There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has identified 3 months as its operating cycle.

b) Fair value measurement

The Company has applied the fair value measurement wherever necessitated at each reporting period.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- i) In the principal market for the asset or liability;
- ii) In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant’s ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and the best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 : Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active market for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 : Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable; and

Level 3 : Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The Company has designated the respective team leads to determine the policies and procedures for both recurring and non - recurring fair value measurement. External valuers are involved, wherever necessary with the approval of Company's board of directors. Selection criteria include market knowledge, reputation, independence and whether professional standards are maintained.

For the purpose of fair value disclosure, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risk of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above. The component wise fair value measurement is disclosed in the relevant notes.

c) Revenue from contracts with customers

Sale of goods

Revenue from sale of goods is recognised as and when the Company satisfies performance obligations by transferring control of the promised goods to its customers. The transaction price is the amount of consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods to the customer. The Company does not have any non-cash consideration.

Revenue is measured at the transaction price received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment. It comprises of invoice value of goods after deducting discounts, volume rebates and applicable taxes on sale. It also excludes value of self-consumption.

Significant financing component - Generally, the Company receives short-term advances from its customers. Using the practical expedient in Ind AS 115, the Company does not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component if it expects, at contract inception, that the period between the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer and when the customer pays for that goods or services will be one year or less.

Sale of services

Revenue from a contract to provide services is recognised by reference to the stage of completion of the contract and as per the terms of the contract.

Power Generation

Power generated from windmills that are covered under wheeling and banking arrangement with the State Electricity Board/ Electricity Distribution Companies are consumed at factories. The monetary values of such power generated that are captively consumed are not recognised as revenue.

Export entitlements

Export entitlements from Government authorities are recognised in the statement of profit and loss when the right to receive credit as per the terms of the scheme is established in respect of the exports made by the Company, and where there is no significant uncertainty regarding the ultimate collection of the relevant export proceeds.

Sale of scrap

Scrap sale is recognised as and when the Company satisfies performance obligations by transferring control of the promised goods to its customers. Revenue is measured at the transaction price received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment. It comprises of invoice value of goods after deducting discounts, and applicable taxes on sale.

Interest Income

Interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or to the amortised cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Rental Income

Rental income from operating lease is recognised on a straight line basis over the term of the relevant lease as per Ind AS 116.

Dividend income

Dividend income is recognized when the company's right to receive dividend is established by the reporting date, which is generally when shareholders approve the dividend.

d) Property, plant and equipment and capital work in progress

Presentation

Property, plant and equipment and capital work in progress are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Such cost includes the cost of replacing part of the plant and equipment and borrowing costs of a qualifying asset, if the recognition criteria are met. When significant parts of plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Company depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of tangible assets outstanding at each balance sheet date, are disclosed as capital advances under long term loans and advances and the cost of the tangible assets not ready for their intended use before such date, are disclosed as capital work in progress.

Component Cost

All material/ significant components have been identified for our plant and have been accounted separately. The useful life of such component are analysed independently and wherever components are having different useful life other than plant they are part of, useful life of components are considered for calculation of depreciation.

The cost of replacing part of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Company and its cost can be measured reliably. The costs of repairs and maintenance are recognised in the statement of profit and loss as incurred.

Machinery spares/ insurance spares that can be issued only in connection with an item of fixed assets and their issue is expected to be irregular are capitalised. Replacement of such spares is charged to revenue. Other spares are charged as revenue expenditure as and when consumed.

Derecognition

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of property, plant and equipment are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

e) Depreciation on property, plant and equipment

Depreciation is the systematic allocation of the depreciable amount of an asset over its useful life on a written down value method. The depreciable amount for assets is the cost of an asset, or other amount substituted for cost, less 5% being its residual value.

Depreciation is provided on straight line method, over the useful lives specified in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

Depreciation for PPE on additions is calculated on pro-rata basis from the date of such additions. For deletion/ disposals, the depreciation is calculated on pro-rata basis up to the date on which such assets have been discarded/ sold. Additions to fixed assets, costing Rs.5,000 each or less are fully depreciated retaining its residual value.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

f) Inventories

Inventories are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Costs are determined on weighted average method as follows:

(i) Raw materials, packing materials and consumables: At purchase cost including other cost incurred in bringing materials/consumables to their present location and condition.

(ii) Work-in-process and intermediates: At material cost, conversion costs and appropriate share of production overheads

(iii) Finished goods: At material cost, conversion costs and an appropriate share of production overheads.

g) Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when an entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value. However, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset are also added to the cost of the financial asset. Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Company commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified on the basis of their contractual cash flow characteristics and the entity's business model of managing them.

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in four categories:

- Debt instruments at amortised cost
- Debt instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- Debt instruments, derivatives and equity instruments at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)
- Equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)

Debt instruments at amortised cost

The Company classifies a debt instrument as at amortised cost, if both the following conditions are met:

- a) The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows; and
- b) Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are Solely Payments of Principal and Interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

Such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in finance income in the profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the profit or loss.

Debt instrument at FVTOCI

The Company classifies a debt instrument at FVTOCI, if both of the following criteria are met:

- a) The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- b) The asset's contractual cash flows represent SPPI.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognizes finance income, impairment losses and reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the profit and loss statement. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to profit and loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

Debt instrument at FVTPL

The Company classifies all debt instruments, which do not meet the criteria for categorization as at amortized cost or as FVTOCI, as at FVTPL.

Debt instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the profit and loss.

Equity investments

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at FVTPL. Where the Company makes an irrevocable election of classifying the equity instruments at FVTOCI, it recognises all subsequent changes in the fair value in OCI, without any recycling of the amounts from OCI to profit and loss, even on sale of such investments.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the profit and loss.

Financial assets are measured at FVTPL except for those financial assets whose contractual terms give rise to cash flows on specified dates that represents SPPI, are measured as detailed below depending on the business model:

Classification	Name of the financial asset
Amortised cost	Tradereceivables, Loans given to employees and others, deposits, interest receivable, unbilled revenue and other advances recoverable in cash.
FVTOCI	Equity investments in companies other than subsidiaries and associates if an option exercised at the time of initial recognition.

FVTPL	Other investments in equity instruments, mutual funds, forward exchange contracts (to the extent not designated as a hedging instrument).
-------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Derecognition

A financial asset is primarily derecognised when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- a) Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortised cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, trade receivables and bank balance.
- b) Financial assets that are debt instruments and are measured at FVTOCI
- c) Trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 11 and Ind AS 18.

The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on:

- Trade receivables or contract revenue receivables; and
- All lease receivables resulting from transactions within the scope of Ind AS 17

The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime Expected Credit Loss (ECL) at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12 months ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12 months ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR. When estimating the cash flows, the Company considers all contractual terms of the financial instrument (including prepayment, extension, call and similar options) over the expected life of the financial instrument and Cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

ECL allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/expense in the statement of profit and loss. This amount is reflected under the head 'other expenses' in the profit and loss. The balance sheet presentation of ECL for various financial instruments is described below:

- Financial assets measured as at amortised cost, contractual revenue receivables and lease receivables: ECL is presented as an allowance, which reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the Company does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.
- Debt instruments measured at FVTOCI: Since financial assets are already reflected at fair value, impairment allowance is not further reduced from its value. Rather, ECL amount is presented as 'accumulated impairment amount' in the OCI.

For assessing increase in credit risk and impairment loss, the company combines financial instruments on the basis of shared credit risk characteristics with the objective of facilitating an analysis that is designed to enable significant increases in credit risk to be identified on a timely basis.

For impairment purposes, significant financial assets are tested on individual basis at each reporting date. Other financial assets are assessed collectively in groups that share similar credit risk characteristics. Accordingly, the impairment testing is done on the following basis:

Name of the financial asset	Impairment Testing Methodology
Trade Receivables	Expected Credit Loss model (ECL) is applied. The ECL over lifetime of the assets are estimated by using a provision matrix which is based on historical loss rates reflecting current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions which are grouped on the basis of similar credit characteristics such as nature of industry, customer segment, past due status and other factors that are relevant to estimate the expected cash loss from these assets.
Other financial assets	When the credit risk has not increased significantly, 12 month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. When there is significant change in credit risk since initial recognition, the impairment is measured based on probability of default over the life time. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12 month ECL.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at FVTPL and as at amortised cost.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings including bank overdrafts, financial guarantee contracts and derivative financial instruments.

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at FVTPL

Financial liabilities at FVTPL include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading, if they are incurred for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term. This category also includes derivative financial instruments entered into by the Company that are not designated as hedging instruments in hedge relationships as defined by Ind AS 109. Separated embedded derivatives are also classified as held for trading unless they are designated as effective hedging instruments.

Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the profit or loss.

For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/ losses attributable to changes in own credit risk are recognized in OCI. These gains/ loss are not subsequently transferred to profit and loss. However, the company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognised in the statement of profit or loss. The company has not designated any financial liability as at fair value through profit and loss.

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the EIR amortisation process.

Derivative financial instruments

The Company holds derivative financial instruments such as foreign exchange forward and options contracts to mitigate the risk of changes in exchange rates on foreign currency exposures. The counterparty for these contracts is generally a bank.

Derivatives fair valued through profit or loss

This category has derivative financial assets or liabilities which are not designated as hedges.

Although the Company believes that these derivatives constitute hedges from an economic perspective, they may not qualify for hedge accounting under Ind AS 109, Financial Instruments. Any derivative that is either not designated a hedge, or is so designated but is ineffective as per Ind AS 109, is categorized as a financial asset or financial liability, at fair value through profit or loss.

Derivatives not designated as hedges are recognized initially at fair value and attributable transaction costs are recognized in net profit in the Statement of Profit and Loss when incurred. Subsequent to initial recognition, these derivatives are measured at fair value through profit or loss and the resulting exchange gains or losses are included in other income. Assets / liabilities in this category are presented as current assets / current liabilities if they are either held for trading or are expected to be realized within 12 months after the Balance Sheet date.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

Reclassification of financial assets

The Company determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no reclassification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments, a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets. Changes to the business model are expected to be infrequent. The Company's senior management determines change in the business model as a result of external or internal changes which are significant to the Company's operations. Such changes are evident to external parties. A change in the business model occurs when the Company either begins or ceases to perform an activity that is significant to its operations. If the Company reclassifies financial assets, it applies the reclassification prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of the immediately next reporting period following the change in business model. The Company does not restate any previously recognised gains, losses (including impairment gains or losses) or interest.

The following table shows various reclassification and how they are accounted for:

S.No	Original classification	Revised classification	Accounting treatment
1	Amortised cost	FVTPL	Fair value is measured at reclassification date. Difference between previous amortized cost and fair value is recognised in the profit or loss
2	FVTPL	Amortised Cost	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new gross carrying amount. EIR is calculated based on the new gross carrying amount.
3	Amortised cost	FVTOCI	Fair value is measured at reclassification date. Difference between previous amortised cost and fair value is recognised in OCI. No change in EIR due to reclassification.
4	FVTOCI	Amortised cost	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new amortised cost carrying amount. However, cumulative gain or loss in OCI is adjusted against fair value. Consequently, the asset is measured as if it had always been measured at amortised cost.

5	FVTPL	FVTOCI	Fair value at reclassification date becomes its new carrying amount. No other adjustment is required.
6	FVTOCI	FVTPL	Assets continue to be measured at fair value. Cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in OCI is reclassified to P&L at the reclassification date.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet, if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

h) Foreign currency transactions and translations

Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Company at the functional currency spot rates at the date at which the transaction first qualifies for recognition. However, for practical reasons, the Company uses an average rate, if the average approximates the actual rate at the date of the transaction.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date. Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in OCI or profit or loss are also recognised in OCI or profit or loss, respectively).

The Company enters into forward exchange contract to hedge its risk associated with Foreign currency fluctuations. The premium or discount arising at the inception of a forward exchange contract is amortized as expense or income over the life of the contract. In case of monetary items which are covered by forward exchange contract, the difference between the year end rate and rate on the date of the contract is recognized as exchange difference. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation of a forward exchange contract is recognized as income or expense for that year.

i) Borrowing Costs

Borrowing cost include interest computed using Effective Interest Rate method, amortisation of ancillary costs incurred and exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost.

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction, production of a qualifying asset are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset which takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use. The Company determines the amount of borrowing cost eligible for capitalisation by applying capitalisation rate to the expenditure incurred on such cost. The capitalisation rate is determined based on the weighted average rate of borrowing cost applicable to the borrowings of the Company which are outstanding during the period, other than borrowings made specifically towards purchase of the qualifying asset. The amount of borrowing cost that the Company capitalises during the period does not exceed the amount of borrowing cost incurred during that period. All other borrowings costs are expensed in the period in which they occur.

Interest income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation. All other borrowing costs are recognised in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which they are incurred.

j) Government Grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the group will comply with all attached conditions.

Government grants relating to the purchase of property, plant and equipment are included in non-current liabilities as deferred income and are credited to profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the expected lives of the related assets and presented within other income.

k) Taxes

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date in the countries where the Company operates and generates taxable income.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised. Where there is deferred tax assets arising from carry forward of unused tax losses and unused tax created, they are recognised to the extent of deferred tax liability.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

l) Retirement and other employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

A liability is recognised for short-term employee benefit in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service.

Defined contribution plans

Retirement benefit in the form of provident fund is a defined contribution scheme. The Company has no obligation, other than the contribution payable to the provident fund. The Company recognizes contribution payable to the provident fund scheme as an expense, when an employee renders the related service. If the contribution payable to the scheme for service received before the balance sheet date exceeds the contribution already paid, the deficit payable to the scheme is recognized as a liability after deducting the contribution already paid. If the contribution already paid exceeds the contribution due for services received before the balance sheet date, then excess is recognized as an asset to the extent that the pre-payment will lead to, for example, a reduction in future payment or a cash refund.

Defined benefit plans

The Company operates a defined benefit gratuity plan in India, which requires contributions to be made to a separately administered fund. The cost of providing benefits under the defined benefit plan is determined using the projected unit credit method.

Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the asset ceiling, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability and the return on plan assets (excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability), are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

Compensated absences

As per the policy of the Company, compensated absences to be carried forward to the subsequent financial year upto a limit of 30 days. The expected cost of accumulating compensated absences is determined by actuarial valuation performed by an independent actuary at each balance sheet date using projected unit credit method.

Other long term employee benefits

Liabilities recognised in respect of other long-term employee benefits are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows expected to be made by the Company in respect of services provided by the employees up to the reporting date.

m) Leases

As a lessee

a) Initial measurement

Lease liability is initially recognised and measured at an amount equal to the present value of minimum lease payments during the lease term that are not yet paid. Right-of-use asset is recognized and measured at cost, consisting of initial measurement of lease liability plus any lease payments made to the lessor at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, initial estimate of restoration costs and any initial direct costs incurred by the lessee.

b) Subsequent measurement

The lease liability is measured in subsequent periods using the effective interest rate method. Right-of-use asset is depreciated in accordance with requirements in Ind AS 16, Property, Plant and equipment.

As a lessor

At the inception of the lease the Company classifies each of its leases as either an operating lease or a finance lease. The Company recognises lease payments received under operating leases as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. In case of a finance lease, finance income is recognised over the lease term based on a pattern reflecting a constant periodic rate of return on the lessor's net investment in the lease.

n) Impairment of non financial assets

The Company assesses, at each reporting date, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

o) Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent asset

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Provisions are discounted, if the effect of the time value of money is material, using pre-tax rates that reflects the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, an increase in the provisions due to the passage of time is recognised as finance cost. These provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Necessary provision for doubtful debts, claims, etc., are made, if realisation of money is doubtful in the judgement of the management.

Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. Contingent liabilities are disclosed separately.

Show cause notices issued by various Government authorities are considered for evaluation of contingent liabilities only when converted into demand.

Contingent assets

Where an inflow of economic benefits is probable, the Company discloses a brief description of the nature of the contingent assets at the end of the reporting period, and, where practicable, an estimate of their financial effect. Contingent assets are disclosed but not recognised in the financial statements.

p) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances with original maturity of less than 3 months, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into cash, which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

q) Cash Flow Statement

Cash flows are presented using indirect method, whereby profit / (loss) before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments.

Cash flows are presented using indirect method, whereby profit / (loss) before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments.

Bank borrowings are generally considered to be financing activities. However, where bank overdrafts which are repayable on demand form an integral part of an entity's cash management, bank overdrafts are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of Cash flow statement.

r) Earnings per share

The basic earnings per share are computed by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

Diluted EPS is computed by dividing the net profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic EPS and also weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period, unless issued at a later date. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for bonus shares, as appropriate.

(All amounts are in INR lakhs, unless otherwise stated)

Fair value hierarchy

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consists of the following three levels:

Level 1 – Inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Inputs are other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 – Inputs are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

The cost of unquoted investments included in Level 3 of fair value hierarchy approximate their fair value because there is a wide range of possible fair value measurements and the cost represents estimate of fair value within that range.

The following table summarises financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis and financial assets that are not measured at fair value on a recurring basis (but fair value disclosures are required):

Financial risk management objectives

The treasury function provides services to the business, co-ordinates access to domestic and international financial markets, monitors and manages the financial risks relating to the operations through internal risk reports which analyse exposures by degree and magnitude of risks. These risks include market risk (including currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

The Company seeks to minimise the effects of these risks by using natural hedging financial instruments to hedge risk exposures. The use of financial derivatives is governed by the Company's policies approved by the board of directors, which provide written principles on foreign exchange risk, the use of financial derivatives, and the investment of excess liquidity. The Company does not enter into or trade financial instruments, including derivative financial instruments, for speculative purposes.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk of any loss in future earnings, in realizable fair values or in future cash flows that may result from a change in the price of a financial instrument. The Company's activities expose it primarily to the financial risks of changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates. The Company actively manages its currency and interest rate exposures through its finance division and uses derivative instruments such as forward contracts and currency swaps, wherever required, to mitigate the risks from such exposures. The use of derivative instruments is subject to limits and regular monitoring by appropriate levels of management.

Foreign currency risk management

The Company undertakes transactions denominated in foreign currencies; consequently, exposures to exchange rate fluctuations arise. The Company actively manages its currency rate exposures through a centralised treasury division and uses natural hedging principles to mitigate the risks from such exposures. The use of derivative instruments, if any, is subject to limits and regular monitoring by appropriate levels of management.

The carrying amounts of the Company's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the reporting period are as follows:

Foreign currency sensitivity analysis

Movement in the functional currencies of the various operations of the Company against major foreign currencies may impact the Company's revenues from its operations. Any weakening of the functional currency may impact the Company's cost of imports and cost of borrowings and consequently may increase the cost of financing the Company's capital expenditures. The foreign exchange rate sensitivity is calculated for each currency by aggregation of the net foreign exchange rate exposure of a currency and a simultaneous parallel foreign exchange rates shift in the foreign exchange rates of each currency by 2%, which represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the period end for a 2% change in foreign currency rates. The estimated sensitivity impact will be around +/- INR 51.02 lakhs (Previous year Rs. 258.11 lakhs), which is considered to be immaterial to the size of operations of the Company.

As on March 31, 2026 (all amounts are in equivalent in INR lakhs)
Particulars	Liabilities			Assets			Net over-all exposure on the currency - net assets / (net liabilities)
	Gross exposure	Exposure hedged using derivatives	Net liability exposure on the currency	Gross exposure	Exposure hedged using derivatives	Net asset exposure on the currency
Trade receivables	-	-	-	2,522.78	-	2,522.78	2,522.78
Borrowings	6,423.34	6,423.34	-	-	-	-	-
Trade Payables	12.82	-	12.82	-	-	-	(12.82)
As on March 31, 2025 (all amounts are in equivalent in INR lakhs)
Particulars	Liabilities			Assets			Net over-all exposure on the currency - net assets / (net liabilities)
	Gross exposure	Exposure hedged using derivatives	Net liability exposure on the currency	Gross exposure	Exposure hedged using derivatives	Net asset exposure on the currency
Trade receivables	-	-	-	5,347.64	-	5,347.64	5,347.64
Borrowings	4,034.02	4,034.02	-	-	-	-	-
Trade Payables	32.26	-	32.26	-	-	-	(32.26)

In management's opinion, the sensitivity analysis is unrepresentative of the inherent foreign exchange risk because the exposure at the end of the reporting period does not reflect the exposure during the year.

Interest rate risk management

The Company is exposed to interest rate risk because it borrow funds at both fixed and floating interest rates. The risk is managed by the Company by maintaining an appropriate mix between fixed and floating rate borrowings and by the use of interest rate swap contracts. Hedging activities are evaluated regularly to align with interest rate views and defined risk appetite, ensuring the most cost-effective hedging strategies are applied. Further, in appropriate cases, the Company also effects changes in the borrowing arrangements to convert floating interest rates to fixed interest rates.

Interest rate sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for both derivatives and non-derivative instruments at the end of the reporting period. For floating rate liabilities, the analysis is prepared assuming the amount of the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period was outstanding for the whole year. A 25 basis point increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

The 25 basis point interest rate changes will impact the profitability by INR 0.45 Lakhs for the year (Previous year INR 0.45 Lakhs)

Credit risk management

Credit risk arises when a customer or counterparty does not meet its obligations under a customer contract or financial instrument, leading to a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities primarily trade receivables and from its financing/ investing activities, including deposits with banks, mutual fund investments, investments in debt securities and foreign exchange transactions. The Company has no significant concentration of credit risk with any counterparty.

Exposure to credit risk

The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure. The maximum exposure is the total of the carrying amount of balances with banks, short term deposits with banks, trade receivables, margin money and other financial assets excluding equity investments.

(a) Trade Receivables

Trade receivables are consisting of a large number of customers. The Company has credit evaluation policy for each customer and, based on the evaluation, credit limit of each customer is defined. Wherever the Company assesses the credit risk as high, the exposure is backed by either bank, guarantee/letter of credit or security deposits.

The Company does not have higher concentration of credit risks to a single customer. As per simplified approach, the Company makes provision of expected credit losses on trade receivables using a provision matrix to mitigate the risk of default in payments and makes appropriate provision at each reporting date wherever outstanding is for longer period and involves higher risk.

The allowance for lifetime expected credit losses on trade receivables for the years ended March 31, 2026 and 2025 and the reconciliation of allowance for expected credit losses are as follows:

	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025
Balance at the beginning of the year	20.85	18.72
Changes during the year	(10.13)	2.13
Balances at the end of the year	10.72	20.85

(b) Investments, Derivative Instruments, Cash and Cash Equivalents and Bank deposits

Credit Risk on cash and cash equivalents, deposits with the banks/financial institutions is generally low as the said deposits have been made with the banks/financial institutions, who have been assigned high credit rating by international and domestic rating agencies.

Credit Risk on Derivative Instruments is generally low as the Company enters into the Derivative Contracts with the reputed Banks.

Investments of surplus funds are made only with approved Financial Institutions/Counterparty. Investments primarily include investment in units of quoted Mutual Funds. These Mutual Funds and Counterparties have low credit risk. The Company has standard operating procedures and investment policy for deployment of surplus liquidity, which allows investment in debt securities and mutual fund schemes of debt and arbitrage categories and restricts the exposure in equity markets.

Offsetting related disclosures

Offsetting of cash and cash equivalents to borrowings as per the loan agreement is available only to the bank in the event of a default. Company does not have the right to offset in case of the counter party's bankruptcy, therefore, these disclosures are not required.

Liquidity risk management

Liquidity risk refers to the risk that the Company cannot meet its financial obligations. The objective of liquidity risk management is to maintain sufficient liquidity and ensure that funds are available for use as per requirements. The Company invests its surplus funds in bank fixed deposit and mutual funds, which carry minimal mark to market risks. The Company also constantly monitors funding options available in the debt and capital markets with a view to maintaining financial flexibility.

Liquidity tables

The following tables detail the Company's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities with agreed repayment periods. The tables have been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Company can be required to pay.

57 Retirement benefit plans

Defined contribution plans

In accordance with Indian law, eligible employees of the Company are entitled to receive benefits in respect of provident fund, a defined contribution plan, in which both employees and the Company make monthly contributions at a specified percentage of the covered employees' salary. The contributions, as specified under the law, are made to the Provident fund as well as Employee State Insurance Fund.

The total expense recognised in profit or loss of INR 135.66 lakhs (for the year ended March 31, 2025 is INR 82.14 lakhs) represents contribution payable to these plans by the Company at rates specified in the rules of the plan.)

Defined benefit plans

(a) Gratuity

Gratuity is payable as per Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. In terms of the same, gratuity is computed by multiplying last drawn salary (basic salary including dearness Allowance if any) by completed years of continuous service with part thereof in excess of six months and again by 15/26. The Act provides for a vesting period of 5 years for withdrawal and retirement and a monetary ceiling on gratuity payable to an employee on separation, as may be prescribed under the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, from time to time. However, in cases where an enterprise has more favourable terms in this regard, the same has been adopted.

These plans typically expose the Company to actuarial risks such as: investment risk, interest rate risk and salary risk.

Investment risk	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated using a discount rate determined by reference to the market yields on government bonds denominated in Indian Rupees. If the actual return on plan asset is below this rate, it will create a plan deficit.
Interest risk	A decrease in the bond interest rate will increase the plan liability. However, this will be partially offset by an increase in the return on the plan's debt investments.

Longevity risk	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the best estimate of the mortality of plan participants both during and after their employment. An increase in the life expectancy of the plan participants will increase the plan's liability.
Salary risk	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of plan participants. As such, an increase in the salary of the plan participants will increase the plan's liability.

Company has an independent Gratuity Trust. The liability of each year is valued as per Ind AS 19 "Employee Benefits" by an independent Actuary and the amount as per the actuarial valuation report is provided in the accounts each year.

The principal assumptions used for the purposes of the actuarial valuations were as follows:

Particulars	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025
Discount Rate	7.98%	6.74%
Rate of increase in compensation level	5.00%	5.00%
Attrition Rate	1.00%	1.00%
Expected Rate of Return on Plan Assets	6.74%	7.00%

The estimates of future salary increases, considered in actuarial valuation, take account of inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors, such as supply and demand in the employment market.

Amounts recognised in total comprehensive income in respect of these defined benefit plans are as follows:	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025
