Commenting on the results, Mr. C.S. Nopany, Co-Chairperson and Managing Director, Avadh Sugar & Energy Ltd said:

"The Indian sugar industry is going through a period of transition, with agricultural uncertainties, evolving ethanol feedstock policies and volatility in domestic and international sugar markets influencing business dynamics. While the current sugar season presents certain challenges, the long-term fundamentals of the Indian sugar industry remain supported by stable domestic consumption, the importance of the sugarcane value chain and the growing role of biofuels in India's energy transition.

We believe that the integrated nature of our operations across sugar, distillery and co-generation provides a strong foundation for navigating these developments. Our focus will remain on operational excellence, cost optimisation, improved recovery, disciplined working capital management and sustainable value creation for all stakeholders.

We remain cautiously optimistic about the medium- to long-term prospects of the sector, while continuing to closely monitor crop developments, government policies and global market movements."
