NIIT Announces Integration of StackRoute and RPS Consulting into its Enterprise Tech Business at World Digital Architect Conclave 2026

- This integration brings together core capabilities to deliver role readiness, deep technology skilling, leadership development, and enterprise-scale capability transformation
- Elevates Dr. Vishnupriya Raghavan to lead the combined StackRoute–RPS Consulting technology business within NIIT Enterprise

Bangalore, July 03, 2026: NIIT Limited, a leading skills and talent development corporation, today unveiled its Enterprise Tech business, bringing together the strengths of StackRoute and RPS Consulting as one combined technology-focused offering. The integration is designed to address evolving enterprise talent needs by helping organizations build future-ready technology talent and drive large-scale workforce transformation.

As part of this strategic integration, NIIT also announced that Dr. Vishnupriya Raghavan will lead the Enterprise Tech business with a focus on enabling enterprises to drive digital fluency at scale, strengthen workforce capabilities, and accelerate digital transformation. The announcement was made during World Digital Architect Conclave 2026.

The platform offers role readiness, deep technology skilling, leadership development, OEM-led capability programs, and enterprise-scale capability transformation. It supports organizations and partner ecosystems in building critical technology capabilities across roles, teams, and business networks.

Its focus areas include AI-first engineering, AI-led SRE, cloud transformation, cybersecurity, data engineering, enterprise architecture, Engineering Intelligence, and technology leadership. Delivered through structured pathways, hands-on practice, and real-world application, the offering helps enterprises build automation-ready and AI-native teams.

This integration bridges RPS Consulting's OEM partnerships with StackRoute's deep engineering expertise, creating a stronger Enterprise Tech offering to build workforce capabilities at scale.

As enterprises accelerate investments in AI, cloud, cybersecurity, automation, and digital transformation, scalable, role-based capability development has become critical to workforce transformation.

Commenting on the integration, Pankaj Jathar, Chief Executive Officer, NIIT Limited, said, "The future of enterprise growth will be shaped by how effectively organizations build and evolve workforce capabilities in an era being transformed by AI and rapid technological change. Through Enterprise Tech, we are deepening our commitment to this opportunity. By bringing together StackRoute and RPS Consulting, and combining technology expertise, leadership development, and learning-led transformation, we are helping organizations build future-ready talent and create lasting business impact."

Dr. Vishnupriya Raghavan, Senior Vice President & Business Head – Enterprise Tech, NIIT Ltd., said, "Customers today are looking for partners who can support capability development across roles, levels, and technology domains. Enterprise Tech brings together StackRoute and RPS Consulting to provide a unified technology skilling and capability-building offering across engineering, architecture, cloud, cybersecurity, data and AI, SRE, operations, and technology leadership. By uniting StackRoute's deep engineering and learning strength with RPS Consulting's expansive OEM ecosystem, we offer clients end-to-end capability and unmatched scale to drive continuous workforce transformation. Through structured learning pathways, hands-on practice, and real-world application, we help organizations accelerate time-to-productivity and build future-ready teams."

The integration of StackRoute and RPS Consulting into Enterprise Tech further strengthens NIIT's position as a trusted partner for organizations seeking to build future-ready technology talent, accelerate enterprise transformation, and unlock long-term business value in an increasingly technology-driven world.
