PRESS RELEASENucleus Software Appoints Bhavit Godiwala as Chief Customer Success Officer*Veteran banking technology leader to strengthen customer success, accelerate transformation outcomes, and drive greater agility for financial institutions globally*Noida, India – June 23, 2026

Nucleus Software, a leading provider of lending and transaction banking solutions to the global financial services industry, announced the appointment of Bhavit Godiwala as its Chief Customer Success Officer (CCSO).

In this role, Bhavit will lead Nucleus Software's global Customer Success organization, focusing on deepening customer relationships, accelerating value realization, strengthening delivery excellence, and helping financial institutions build greater business agility in an increasingly digital and AI-driven environment.

Bhavit joins Nucleus Software with nearly three decades of leadership experience spanning banking technology, digital transformation, core banking modernization, digital banking, payments, transaction banking, cloud-ready platforms, and large-scale public sector programs. Throughout his career, he has successfully led some of the banking industry's most complex transformation initiatives across Asia, the Middle East, Africa, Europe, and Latin America.

Prior to joining Nucleus Software, Bhavit held senior leadership positions at Centelon Group, Intellect Design Arena, Tech Mahindra, and Infosys Finacle. He has led large global customer success portfolios and built high-performance teams across multiple continents, and served as a trusted advisor to banking CXOs driving enterprise-wide modernization and transformation programs.

His experience includes leading transformational initiatives for globally recognized Banking institutions across multiple geographies. He has also played a pivotal role in driving operational excellence, customer-centric transformation, cloud adoption, executive governance, and large-scale change management programs across global banking ecosystems.

Parag Bhise, CEO & Executive Director, Nucleus Software, said:

"As financial institutions continue to modernize their technology landscapes and respond to rapidly evolving customer expectations, agility, execution excellence, and customer success have become strategic priorities. Bhavit brings a unique combination of deep banking expertise, large-scale transformation experience, customer-centric leadership, and operational excellence. His proven track record of helping financial institutions navigate complex modernization journeys aligns strongly with our vision of creating long-term value and measurable business outcomes for our customers. We are delighted to welcome him to the Nucleus leadership team."

Bhavit Godiwala, Chief Customer Success Officer, Nucleus Software, said:

"Nucleus Software has built an exceptional legacy of innovation, trust, and customer partnership over nearly four decades. Its products power mission-critical operations for financial institutions across the world, and its long-standing customer relationships are a testament to the value it delivers. As the banking industry enters a new era shaped by AI, intelligent automation, and digital transformation, customer success will increasingly be defined by the ability to deliver agility, accelerate outcomes, and continuously create business value. I am excited to join Nucleus and partner with our customers in shaping the future of financial services."

The appointment comes at a time when financial institutions globally are accelerating investments in AI, digital lending, transaction banking modernization, cloud-ready architectures, operational resilience, and intelligent customer experiences. Nucleus Software continues to strengthen its leadership capabilities to help customers navigate these evolving priorities while unlocking new opportunities for growth, efficiency, and innovation.

As Chief Customer Success Officer, Bhavit will work closely with customers, partners, and internal teams to enhance strategic engagement, strengthen governance, drive delivery excellence, and accelerate the successful adoption and expansion of Nucleus Software's flagship platform, FinnOne Neo®.
