There were no corresponding sales in the quarter or six months ending 30 September 2025.

Geopolitical uncertainty disrupted global supply chains during the quarter, increasing input and logistics costs, particularly for fuel, packaging and freight. Following completion of its annual shutdown during the quarter and six months ended 30 September 2026, the plant is prepared to meet higher market demand. The Company continues to expand renewable energy use and its blended cement portfolio to enhance profitability and reduce its carbon footprint.

Long-Term Outlook — Management remains confident in the Company’s long-term growth prospects, supported by strong operational capabilities, effective supply chain management, an expanding distribution network and disciplined capital allocation. Together with continued market expansion, these strengths position the Company to create sustainable value over the long term.
