A key development during the period was the commencement of commercial production at our newly established manufacturing facility in Bhagwanpur, Haridwar, effective 13 September 2026. The facility is expected to nearly double our manufacturing capabilities and strengthen our ability to cater to growing demand from the railway and engineering sectors.

Additionally, we continued to focus on strengthening our product portfolio, enhancing manufacturing capabilities and securing relevant approvals to expand our participation in key business opportunities. The recent RDSO prototype approval for Friction Wedge marks an important step in expanding our railway components portfolio and strengthening our eligibility to participate in future procurement opportunities.

Looking ahead, we remain focused on optimising capacity utilisation, improving operational efficiencies, expanding our product offerings and maintaining prudent financial management. With the addition of our new manufacturing facility and continued expansion of our product portfolio, we remain committed to strengthening our operational capabilities and creating sustainable long-term value for our stakeholders."
