Wipro and CrowdStrike Launch CISO Command Center to Transform Enterprise Cybersecurity Operations

EAST BRUNSWICK, NJ | BENGALURU, India | AUSTIN, Texas – September 09, 2026 – Wipro Limited (NYSE: WIT, BSE: 507685, NSE: WIPRO), a leading AI-powered technology services and consulting company, today announced the launch of its Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) Command Center, in collaboration with CrowdStrike (NASDAQ: CRWD). The Command Center rewires enterprise security for frontier AI-accelerated risks to create proactive, risk-informed cyber resilience aligned to business priorities.

The CISO Command Center reinforces Wipro's consulting-led cybersecurity strategy by enabling enterprises to move from tool-driven operations to an enterprise-wide, risk-led operating model. The Center will be operationalized through Wipro Intelligence™ solutions – CyberTransform℠ and CyberShield℠ – and supported by the CrowdStrike Falcon® platform. It will deliver integrated protection across endpoint security, cloud security, exposure management, and AI security, while unifying detection and response through a modern Security Operations Center (SOC).

"Cyber risk is intensifying pressure on boardroom decision-making. Threats that once remained dormant for months can now materialize within hours, driven by external triggers and AI-enabled exploitation," said Amar Bysani, Global Practice Head – Cybersecurity and Risk Services, Wipro Limited. "The Command Center will work with enterprises to turn security signals into business risk intelligence, enabling them to sense, prioritize, and respond at machine speed."

Daniel Bernard, Chief Business Officer, CrowdStrike, said "AI is fundamentally changing both the threat landscape and how enterprises run defense programs. Together, CrowdStrike and Wipro are giving CISOs the AI-native security, intelligence, and services they need to turn risk into action at machine speed and transform security into a business advantage."

The offering is further strengthened by Wipro's membership in CrowdStrike's Project QuiltWorks, a global coalition focused on identifying, prioritizing, and remediating frontier AI risk.
