Product development and customer updates

During the quarter, the Company supplied its ReclaMax 120 recycling machine to an Indian customer. It also continued development work on the ReclaPro D150 two-stage extrusion system for processing post-consumer and contaminated plastic waste.

The Company executed a specialised 1,000 mm stretching line for an Indian customer for a defence-sector application and secured its first order from South Korea. It also engaged with customers at industry exhibitions and through a customer-care meeting in Udaipur.

Commenting on the performance, Mr. Raj Kumar Lohia, Chairman and Managing Director, Lohia Corp Limited, said:

"The growth in quarterly revenue was supported by higher machinery sales and demand from domestic customers, alongside continued aftermarket activity. Our order book provides a base for production planning over the coming quarters. We remain focused on timely execution, customer support and the development of recycling and specialised machinery."
