HCLTech ranked among the top 5 Global Store Services Providers by Everest Group

LONDON and NOIDA, India, July 14, 2026—HCLTech, a leading global technology company, has been ranked among the top 5 services providers in the Everest Group Top 50™ Store Services Providers 2026 report, underscoring its leadership in enabling large-scale digital transformation in the retail industry.

HCLTech has been recognized for helping retailers modernize store ecosystems and create seamless, experience-led environments, leveraging its strengths across the store services value chain – from inventory management and digital workplace to omnichannel enablement, customer experience and immersive in-store technologies. It is also acknowledged for advancing data-driven decision-making and retail media networks within physical stores as retailers redefine the role of the store in an increasingly digital-first landscape.

“This recognition reinforces HCLTech’s position as a strategic partner of choice for retailers reimagining store ecosystems. As retail stores become intelligent, connected and AI-driven hubs, our full-stack capabilities across infrastructure, digital workplace, applications and AI enable us to deliver end-to-end transformation at scale. By combining deep domain expertise with platforms such as Agentic Commerce, Vision X and Retail Hub, we are helping retailers unlock new revenue streams, enhance in-store experiences and drive greater operational agility,” said Kristina Rogers, Chief Growth Officer and Global Head, Retail, CPG and Luxury, HCLTech.
