GLOBAL ECONOMY OVERVIEW

The global economy during FY 2025-26 operated against a backdrop of heightened geopolitical uncertainty, marked by the continuing Russia–Ukraine conflict, escalating tensions in the Middle East, disruptions to global shipping routes, and increasing trade fragmentation among major economies. These developments significantly influenced global trade, energy markets, commodity prices, supply chains, and investment sentiment. The prolonged Russia–Ukraine conflict continued to affect global agricultural and energy markets. Ukraine remains a major exporter of grains, edible oils, and critical raw materials, and disruptions to Black Sea shipping routes contributed to volatility in food and commodity prices. The conflict also prompted governments and businesses to accelerate supply chain diversification and reduce dependence on geopolitically sensitive regions. The Middle East emerged as a major source of economic uncertainty during the year. Concerns regarding disruptions to energy supplies and strategic maritime routes, particularly through the Strait of Hormuz, resulted in increased volatility in global oil and gas markets. Higher energy prices exerted inflationary pressure across economies, raising transportation, manufacturing, and logistics costs for businesses worldwide. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) noted that prolonged conflict could adversely affect global growth through higher commodity prices, weakened consumer purchasing power, and tighter financial conditions.

Global trade faced additional challenges from rising protectionism, sanctions, tariff measures, and shifting geopolitical alliances. Businesses increasingly adopted “China Plus One” and regional supply chain strategies to improve resilience and mitigate geopolitical risks. While global trade remained relatively resilient, uncertainty surrounding trade policies and conflict-driven disruptions moderated investment decisions and cross-border economic activity.

Financial markets experienced periodic volatility due to geopolitical developments. Investors shifted capital towards safe-haven assets amid concerns regarding inflation, energy security, and global growth prospects. Elevated geopolitical risks contributed to fluctuations in currency markets, commodity prices, and equity valuations, creating a more cautious investment environment.

At the same time, governments across the world increased spending on defense, energy security, infrastructure resilience, and strategic manufacturing capabilities. Significant investments were directed towards renewable energy, critical minerals, semiconductor manufacturing, and domestic industrial capacity to reduce exposure to external shocks. These initiatives are expected to reshape global trade and investment patterns over the coming decade. Despite these challenges, the global economy demonstrated resilience supported by technological innovation, digital transformation, and continued investments in infrastructure and clean energy. Nevertheless, geopolitical tensions remain one of the most significant risks to the global economic outlook. Businesses are increasingly focusing on risk management, supply chain diversification, operational flexibility, and sustainability to navigate an evolving geopolitical landscape. Looking ahead, the pace of global economic growth is expected to remain moderate, subject to developments in ongoing conflicts, energy market stability, inflation trends, and international trade relations. The ability of policymakers and businesses to adapt to geopolitical realities will play a critical role in sustaining economic growth and long-term stability.

INDIAN ECONOMY OVERVIEW

The Indian economy demonstrated remarkable resilience during FY 2025-26 amidst a challenging global environment characterized by geopolitical conflicts, evolving trade policies, inflationary pressures, and heightened uncertainty in international markets. Despite these external headwinds, India continued to remain one of the fastest-growing major economies, supported by strong domestic demand, sustained infrastructure spending, robust services sector growth, and ongoing policy reforms.

The global economic landscape during the year was significantly influenced by the continuing Russia–Ukraine conflict, geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, and changing trade dynamics led by tariff measures imposed by major economies, including the United States. These developments disrupted global supply chains, increased logistics costs, and created volatility in commodity and energy markets. The uncertainty surrounding international trade policies and tariff barriers impacted export-oriented industries across several economies.

The imposition and proposed expansion of tariff measures by the United States on various imported products contributed to increased trade tensions and prompted businesses worldwide to reassess supply chain strategies. While such developments created challenges for global trade, India continued to benefit from supply chain diversification initiatives, with multinational corporations increasingly exploring alternative manufacturing destinations under the “China Plus One” strategy. This trend supported investments in manufacturing, electronics, engineering goods, specialty chemicals, and other industrial sectors.

Inflation remained a key concern globally during the year, driven by fluctuations in crude oil prices, food inflation, supply chain disruptions, and geopolitical uncertainties. However, India managed inflation relatively effectively through prudent monetary policy measures, government interventions, and stable domestic demand conditions. While food prices experienced periodic volatility due to weather-related factors and supply constraints, overall inflation remained within a manageable range compared to several advanced economies.

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) continued to maintain a balanced approach aimed at supporting economic growth while ensuring price stability and financial sector resilience. The banking system remained well-capitalized, credit growth remained healthy, and financial markets demonstrated stability despite global uncertainties.

India's growth momentum was supported by sustained government expenditure on infrastructure development, including transportation networks, logistics corridors, renewable energy projects, urban development initiatives, and industrial infrastructure. Flagship programmes such as the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme, PM Gati Shakti, National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP), Digital India, and Make in India continued to strengthen the country's manufacturing competitiveness and investment attractiveness.

The services sector remained a key driver of economic growth, supported by strong performance in information technology services, financial services, telecommunications, healthcare, retail, hospitality, and digital commerce. Private consumption continued to benefit from rising income levels, increasing urbanization, and expanding digital adoption across sectors.

India's external sector remained relatively robust, supported by healthy foreign exchange reserves, sustained foreign direct investment inflows, and growing integration with global value chains. The country's strategic position as a trusted manufacturing and investment destination was further reinforced by ongoing efforts to improve ease of doing business, logistics efficiency, and regulatory transparency.

Looking ahead, while risks arising from geopolitical conflicts, global trade tensions, commodity price volatility, and inflationary pressures continue to persist, India's strong macroeconomic fundamentals, favorable demographics, expanding infrastructure, policy reforms, and growing domestic market are expected to support sustainable long-term growth. The economy remains well-positioned to capitalize on emerging opportunities arising from global supply chain realignment, technological advancement, renewable energy investments, and manufacturing expansion.

Overall, FY 2025-26 reaffirmed India's position as a resilient and rapidly growing economy capable of navigating global uncertainties while continuing its trajectory towards long-term economic development and global competitiveness.

ALUMINIUM INDUSTRY OUTLOOK

The Company's performance continues to be influenced by movements in London Metal Exchange (LME) aluminium prices, which serve as the primary benchmark for global aluminium pricing. During FY 2025-26, LME prices remained volatile due to geopolitical developments, tariff-related uncertainties, changes in global demand-supply dynamics, and fluctuations in energy costs. The Company continues to closely monitor market developments and adopts appropriate procurement, pricing, and risk management strategies to mitigate the impact of commodity price volatility.

GROWTH FACTORS

KEY MARKET DRIVERS

Secondary aluminium's rising popularity will promote growth

- An important portion of the world's usage of aluminium is secondary or recycled aluminium. Because of its cost-effectiveness, scrap from machinery, automobiles, equipment, and beverage cans is recycled and reused. Reprocessing used metal or scrap uses a small portion of the energy needed to make brand-new metal from ore, minimizing the harm to the environment.
- Additionally, initiatives including the creation of car dismantling, shredder, and environmental safety centres are anticipated to promote market expansion. The widespread use of the material in the transportation sector is also predicted to boost aluminium consumption.
- Government initiatives such as Make in India, National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP), PM Gati Shakti, housing schemes, renewable energy targets, and manufacturing incentives are expected to support long-term aluminium demand.
- Aluminium is 100% recyclable without loss of quality. Growing environmental awareness and ESG initiatives are encouraging greater adoption of recycled aluminium, reducing carbon emissions and production costs.
- Aluminium is increasingly used in electric vehicles to reduce vehicle weight, improve battery efficiency, and enhance driving range. The global shift towards EVs is expected to significantly increase aluminium consumption.

Numerous uses across several industries, and expanding building industries

- Due to its distinct physical characteristics, aluminium is in higher demand across a wider spectrum of industries and has more uses. Because metal is lightweight and has good electrical conductivity, aluminium is utilized for long-distance transmitting power. Because it can be easily moulded and worked into the fuselage and wings of light planes, aluminium alloys like 6061 are frequently utilized in this sector. Its high corrosion resistance makes it the perfect material for use in aircraft. Due to its thermal characteristics, aluminium is utilized in refrigeration, air conditioning, and heat transfer systems.

- Additionally, because of its malleability, this metal can be shaped into thin strips and employed in the packaging sector. Siding, roofing, transparent panels, doorframes, window, staircases, central heating, furnishings, air conditioning systems, and many other things are made with it in building projects.

KEY MARKET OPPORTUNITIES

Aluminium is good electricity and heat conductivity and is reasonably priced

- Aluminium is flexible, robust, and doesn't easily melt or distort when exposed to high temperatures. Additionally, it is lightweight, will not rust or corrode readily, and is a superior heat and electrical conductor. The worldwide car industry is increasingly preferring aluminium since it is reasonably inexpensive. This is understood by aluminium processors all over the world. To strive to build future generations of automotive components that are better in all of the aforementioned features and at a significantly lower cost point, they are spending a lot of money on development and research.

End-Use Industry Insights

In terms of the end-user, the transport sector held the biggest market share. This market's expansion is being driven by the growing use of metal in automobiles due to its lighter lightweight and improved physical characteristics. Many emerging countries are making significant investments to build out their infrastructure. These countries are likewise progressing quickly. As more people throughout the world own cars, the global aluminum sector is anticipated to grow with the automotive industry worldwide.

Because more people throughout the world drive cars, the transportation sector dominated the global aluminum market in 2021. As a result, expansion in the global transportation sector is anticipated to fuel expansion in the global aluminum market. During the projection period, the packing sector is anticipated to increase at a significant CAGR. This industry is expected to increase as a result of the growing demand for aluminum from producers of packaged foods because of its non-permeable properties.

The outlook for the aluminium industry remains positive, supported by robust infrastructure spending, rapid urbanization, increased adoption of electric vehicles, expansion of renewable energy, and growing emphasis on sustainability. Continued policy support, technological advancements, and rising demand for recyclable and lightweight materials are expected to drive steady growth in aluminium consumption over the medium to long term. While volatility in raw material prices, energy costs, and global economic conditions may present challenges, the industry's long-term fundamentals remain strong due to aluminium's critical role in sustainable industrial and economic development.

Regional Insights

India remains one of the fastest-growing aluminium markets globally, driven by sustained investments in infrastructure, housing, renewable energy, transportation, electrical transmission, and manufacturing. Government initiatives such as the National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP), PM Gati Shakti, Make in India, and the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes are expected to support long-term demand for aluminium products. Increasing adoption of aluminium in electric vehicles, railway modernisation, solar energy projects, and packaging applications continues to create new growth opportunities. The regional outlook for the aluminium industry remains positive, supported by sustained infrastructure investments, accelerating urbanisation, increasing adoption of electric vehicles, renewable energy expansion, and the growing emphasis on recyclable and low-carbon materials. While geopolitical developments, energy prices, trade policies, and global economic uncertainties may influence short-term demand, the long-term fundamentals of the aluminium industry remain robust. The Company remains focused on leveraging these opportunities by strengthening customer relationships, improving operational efficiency, expanding its product portfolio, and enhancing its presence in domestic and international markets.

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Manaksia Aluminium Company Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2026, and the Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Statement of Changes in Equity and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including material accounting policy information and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us and based on the consideration of the reports of other auditors on the audited financial statements of the joint operations and trusts, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company, its joint operations and trusts, as at March 31, 2026, and total comprehensive income (comprising of profit and other comprehensive income), changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under Section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the "Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our report. We are independent of the Company, its joint operations and trusts in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of Matters

We draw attention to Note 46 (i) to the financial statements in relation to outstanding balances of trade receivables, trade payables and loans and advances which are subject to confirmation and subsequent adjustments, if any.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the financial year ended March 31, 2026. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matter described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Sr.	Key Audit Matter	Our Response
1.	Defined Benefit Obligation The valuation of the retirement benefit schemes in the Company is determined with reference to various actuarial assumptions including discount rate, future salary increases, rate of inflation, mortality rates and attrition rates. Due to the size of these schemes, small changes in these assumptions can have a material impact on the estimated defined benefit obligation.	We have examined the key controls over the process involving member data, formulation of assumptions and the financial reporting process in arriving at the provision for retirement benefits. We tested the controls for determining the actuarial assumptions and the approval of those assumptions by senior management. We found these key controls were designed, implemented and operated effectively, and therefore determined that we could place reliance on these key controls for the purposes of our audit. We tested the employee data used in calculating the obligation and where material, we also considered the treatment of curtailments, settlements, past service costs, remeasurements, benefits paid, and any other amendments made to obligations during the year. From the evidence obtained, we found the data and assumptions used by management in the actuarial valuations for retirement benefit obligations to be appropriate.
2.	Litigation, Claims and Contingent Liabilities (Refer Note 36, to be read along with Emphasis of matter in Independent Auditor's Report) The Company is exposed to variety of different laws, regulations and interpretations thereof. Consequently, in the normal course of business, Provisions and Contingent Liabilities may arise from legal proceedings, constructive obligations and commercial claims. • Management applies significant judgement when considering whether and how much to provide for the potential exposure of each matter. • These estimates could change substantially over time as new facts emerge as each legal case or matters progresses. • Given the different views possible, basis the interpretations, complexity and the magnitude of potential exposures and the judgement necessary to estimate the amount of provision required or determine required disclosures.	We understood the processes, evaluated the design and implementation of controls and tested the operating effectiveness of the Company's controls over the recording and re-assessment of uncertain legal positions, claims and contingent liabilities. We held discussions with senior management including the person responsible for legal and compliance to obtain an understanding of the factors considered by management in classification of the matter as 'probable', 'possible' and 'remote'. • Examined the Company's legal expenses on sample basis and read the minutes of the board meetings in order to ensure completeness. • With respect to tax matters, involving our tax specialists, and discussing with the Company's tax officers, their views and strategies on significant cases, as well as the related technical grounds relating to their conclusions based on applicable tax laws. • Assessing the decisions and rationale for provisions held or for decisions not to record provisions or make disclosures. • For those matters where management concluded that no provisions should be recorded, considering the adequacy and completeness of the Company's disclosures.

Sr.	Key Audit Matter	Our Response
3.	Property, Plant & Equipment (Including Capex) - Tracking and monitoring capex requires more attention to ensure reasonable accurateness and completeness of financial reporting in respect of Property, plant and equipment. - Further, technical complexities require management to assess and make estimates/ judgements about capitalization, estimated useful life, impairment etc. which has material impact on Balance sheet and operating results.	Principal Audit Procedures Our audit approach consisted testing of the design and operating effectiveness of the internal controls and substantive testing as follows:- - We assessed company's process regarding maintenance of records and accounting of transactions pertaining to Property, plant and equipment including capital work-in-progress with reference to Indian Accounting Standard 16. - We have carried out substantive audit procedures at financial and assertion level to verify the capitalization of assets as Property, plant & equipment. - We have reviewed management judgement pertaining to estimation of useful life and depreciation of the Property, plant and equipment in accordance with Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. - We have relied on physical verification conducted by management and management representations.
4.	Revenue Recognition We have identified this as an area of importance because the company's revenue is a material item in view of adoption of Ind AS 115 "Revenue from Contracts with Customers". The application of the new revenue accounting standard involves certain key judgements relating to identification of distinct performance obligations, determination of transaction price of the identified performance obligations, the appropriateness of the basis used to measure revenue recognised over a period and disclosures thereof.	Our audit procedures included but were not limited to: - Evaluation of the company's accounting principles in relation to implementation of the new revenue accounting standard - Created an understanding of the company's routines and internal controls associated with revenue recognition; - Examination of a selection of transactions to ensure that they have been reported correctly according to agreements and in the correct periods;

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Ind AS financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013 we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial control system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Ind AS financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Ind AS financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the Ind AS financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

To The Independent Auditor's Report*Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Manaksia Aluminium Company Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2026 in conjunction with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control with reference to standalone financial statement criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting ("the Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit on Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial control system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2. Significant Accounting PoliciesI. Basis of Preparation of financial statements*(a) Statement of compliance

These Financial statements are prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time) notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('Act') and other relevant provisions of the Act, as applicable.

The financial statements are authorized for issue by the Board of Directors of the Company at their meeting held on May 20, 2025

(b) Functional and presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (Rs.), which is also the Company's functional currency.

(c) Basis of measurement

These financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis except for certain financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments).

(d) Use of estimates and judgments

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods. The application of accounting policies that require critical accounting estimates involving complex and subjective judgments and the use of assumptions in these financial statements have been disclosed below. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. The changes in the estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

II. Revenue from contract with customer

Revenue is recognised when the Company satisfies a performance obligation by transferring a promised good or service to the customer, which is when the customer obtains control of the good or service. A performance obligation may be satisfied at a point in time or over time. The amount of revenue recognised is the amount allocated to the satisfied performance obligation. Revenue is recognised only when it can be reliably measured, and it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the company. Revenue from operations includes sales of goods, services, scrap, commission, export incentives. Revenue excludes Goods and Service Tax amount collected on behalf of third parties.

Sale of Goods

Revenue from sale of manufactured and traded goods is recognised when a promise in a customer contract (performance obligation) has been satisfied by transferring control over the promised goods to the customer. The control of goods is usually transferred to customer depending upon the incoterms or as agreed with customer upon shipment, delivery to the customer, in accordance with the delivery and acceptance terms agreed with the customers. Control over a promised good refers to the ability to direct the use of, and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from, those goods.

Revenue is measured based on transaction price, which is the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, stated net of rebates, discounts, returns, indirect taxes or any other similar allowances. Transaction price is recognised based on the price specified in the contract, net of the sales discounts.

Incentives are accounted based on the assessment of whether the beneficiary (of the incentive) is acting as a principal or an agent. Where the beneficiary is a principal, the incentive is regarded as consideration paid to the customer and is reduced from revenue. However, where the beneficiary is an agent, the incentive payment is recognised as an expense as the same is in the nature of commission.

Advance received from customer before transfer of control of goods to the customer is recognised as contract liability.

III. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at acquisition cost, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. The cost of Property, Plant & Equipment comprises of its purchase price, including import duties and other non-refundable taxes or levies and any directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Interest and other financial charges on loans borrowed specifically for acquisition of capital assets are capitalised till the start of commercial production.

Depreciation is provided on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of assets and are in line with the requirements of Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

Asset	Useful lives (estimated by the management) (Years)
Building	30
Plants and equipments	10 – 20
Computers	3
Office equipment	3 – 5
Furniture and fixtures	5 – 10
Vehicles	8

Advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each balance sheet date are classified as 'Capital Advances' under other 'Non-Current Assets' Assets and the cost of assets not put to use before such date are disclosed under 'Capital Work in Progress'

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Leasehold land is amortized on a straight-line basis over the unexpired period of their respective lease ranging from 70-99 years.

IV. Intangible Assets

Intangible Assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Intangible Assets acquired in a business combination is valued at their fair value at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

The useful lives of Intangible Assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite.

Intangible Assets with finite lives are amortized over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortization period and the amortization method for an Intangible Asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at the end of each reporting period. The amortization expense on Intangible Assets with finite lives is recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss. The Company amortizes intangible assets over their estimated useful lives using the straight-line method.

Intangible Assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized, but are tested for impairment annually, either individually or at the cash-generating unit level. The assessment of indefinite life is reviewed annually to determine whether the indefinite life continues to be supportable. If not, the change in useful life from indefinite to finite is made on a prospective basis.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss when the asset is derecognized.

V. Inventories

Inventories are valued at cost or net realisable value whichever is lower except for saleable scraps, whose cost is not identifiable, which are valued at estimated net realisable value. Closing stock has been valued on Weighted Average basis. Cost comprises expenditure incurred in the normal course of business in bringing such inventories to its location and includes, where applicable, appropriate overheads based on normal level of activity. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

VI. Financial InstrumentsInitial recognition and measurement

The Company recognizes financial assets and financial liabilities when it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All financial assets and liabilities are recognized at fair value on initial recognition, except for trade receivables which are initially measured at transaction price. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities, which are not at fair value through profit or loss, are added to the fair value on initial recognition. Regular way purchase and sale of financial assets are accounted for at trade date.

Subsequent measurementi. Non derivative financial instruments*(i) Financial assets carried at amortized cost

A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortized cost if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold the asset in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Notes to Financial statements as at and for the year ended 31st March, 2026*(ii) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

A financial asset is subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. The Company has made an irrevocable election for its investments which are classified as equity instruments to present the subsequent changes in fair value in other comprehensive income based on its business model.

(iii) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

A financial asset which is not classified in any of the above categories are subsequently fair valued through profit or loss.

(iv) Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method, except for contingent consideration recognized in a business combination which is subsequently measured at fair value through profit and loss. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the Balance Sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

ii. Derivative financial instruments

The Company holds derivative financial instruments such as foreign exchange forward and option contracts to mitigate the risk of changes in exchange rates on foreign currency exposures. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value through profit or loss and the resulting exchange gains or losses are included in other income.

Derecognition of financial instruments

The company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109. A financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) is derecognized from the Company's Balance Sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

VII. Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date under current market conditions.

The Company categorizes assets and liabilities measured at fair value into one of three levels depending on the ability to observe inputs employed for such measurement:

- a) Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- b) Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable either directly or indirectly for the asset or liability.
- c) Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability which are not based on observable market data.

VIII. Impairment

Impairment is recognized based on the following principles:

Notes to Financial statements as at and for the year ended 31st March, 2026*Financial Assets

The Company recognizes loss allowances using the Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit or loss. Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to life time ECL. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at life time ECL. The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognized is recognized as an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss.

Non-Financial Assets

Goodwill and intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortization and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the assets carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an assets fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest level for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets (cash generating unit) non-financial assets other than goodwill that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of reporting period.

Notes to Financial statementsIX. Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets Provisions involving substantial degree of estimation in measurement are recognized when there is a legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that there will be an outflow of resources and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of obligation. Provisions are not recognized for future operating losses. The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

A contingent liability exists when there is a possible but not probable obligation, or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources, or a present obligation whose amount cannot be estimated reliably. Contingent liabilities do not warrant provisions, but are disclosed unless the possibility of outflow of resources is remote. Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed in the financial statements. However, contingent assets are assessed continually and if it is virtually certain that an inflow of economic benefits will arise, the asset and related income are recognized in the period in which the change occurs.

X. Foreign Currency Transactions & Translations

The functional currency of the Company is Indian Rupee. These Financial Statements are presented in Indian Rupee (rounded off to the nearest Lacs).

Transactions in foreign currencies entered into by the company are accounted at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Gains & losses arising on account of realization are accounted for in the Statement of Profit & Loss. Monetary Assets & Liabilities in foreign currency that are outstanding at the year end are translated at the year end exchange rates and the resultant gain/loss is accounted for in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

Notes to Financial statements as at and for the year ended 31st March, 2026*XI. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash and cash-on deposit with banks. The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a remaining maturity at the date of purchase of three months or less and that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash to be cash equivalents.

XII. Employee BenefitsDefined Contribution Plan

The Company makes contributions towards provident fund to the regulatory authorities to a defined contribution retirement benefit plan for qualifying employees, where the Company has no further obligations. Both the employees and the Company make monthly contributions to the Provident Fund Plan equal to a specified percentage of the covered employee's salary.

Defined Benefit Plan

Gratuity is paid to employees under the Payment of Gratuity Act 1972 through unfunded scheme. The Company's liability is actuarially determined using the Projected Unit Credit method at the end of the year in accordance with the provision of Ind AS 19 - Employee Benefits.

Notes to Financial statements

The Company recognizes the net obligation of the defined benefit plan in its balance sheet as an asset or liability. Gains and losses through re-measurements of the net defined benefit liability/(asset) are recognized in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

The Company recognises the changes in the net defined benefit obligation like service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements and net interest expense or income, as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Short term employee benefits are charged off at the undiscounted amount in the year in which the related services are rendered.

XIII. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are interest and other costs (including exchange differences relating to foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs) incurred in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of an asset which necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

XIV. Leases

Leases under which the company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. When acquired, such assets are capitalized at fair value or present value of the minimum lease payments at the inception of the lease, whichever is lower. Lease payments under operating leases are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis in net profit in the Statement of Profit & Loss over the lease term.

XV. Government Grants

The Company recognizes government grants only when there is reasonable assurance that the conditions attached to them shall be complied with and the grants will be received. Grants related to assets are treated as deferred income and are recognized as other income in the Statement of profit & loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful life of the asset. Grants related to income are recognized on a systematic basis over the periods necessary to match them with the related costs which they are intended to compensate and are deducted from the expense in the statement of profit & loss.

Income tax expense is recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity, in which case it is recognized in other comprehensive income. Provision for current tax is made at the current tax rates based on assessable income.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for all temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the Financial Statements except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date and are expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect of changes in tax rates on deferred income tax assets and liabilities is recognized as income or expense in the period that includes the enactment or the substantive enactment date. A deferred income tax asset is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilized. Deferred income taxes are not provided on the undistributed earnings of subsidiaries and branches where it is expected that the earnings of the subsidiary or branch will not be distributed in the foreseeable future. The company offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

XVII. Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for events such as bonus issue, bonus element in a rights issue, share split, and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

XVIII. Current and non-current classification

All assets and liabilities are classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Schedule III to the Act.

Notes to Financial statementsAssets

An asset is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- (i) it is expected to be realized in, or is intended for sale or consumption in, the Company's normal operating cycle;

- (iii) it is due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting date; or
- (iv) the Company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification. Current liabilities include current portion of non-current financial liabilities. All other liabilities are classified as non-current. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as noncurrent assets and liabilities.

XIX. Dividend

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

XX. Derecognition of Tangible and Intangible Assets

An item of PPE is de-recognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from its use or disposal. Gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of PPE is determined as the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

XXI. Equity Share Capital

An equity instrument is a contract that evidences residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities. Par value of the equity shares is recorded as share capital and the amount received in excess of par value is classified as Securities Premium.

III) Financial Risk Management

In the course of its business, the Company is exposed primarily to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates, equity prices, liquidity, commodity and credit risk, which may adversely impact the fair value of its financial instruments. The Company's focus is on foreseeing the unpredictability of financial markets and seek to minimize potential adverse effects on its financial performance.

a) Market Risk -

Market Risk Comprises of Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk, Commodity Price Risk, Interest Rate Risk & Equity Price Risk

i) Exchange Rate Risk

The fluctuation in foreign currency exchange rates may have a potential impact on the Statement of Profit and Loss and Equity, where any transactions are denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the Company.

The Company's Exchange Rate Risk exposure is primarily due to Trade Payables, Trade Receivables and Borrowings in the form of Letter of Credit denominated in foreign currencies. The Company uses foreign exchange and forward contracts primarily to hedge foreign exchange exposure.

ii) Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company constantly monitors the credit markets and rebalances its financing strategies to achieve an optimal maturity profile and financing cost.

iii) Commodity Price Risk

Manaksia's operations consists of Aluminium Business. The timing mis-match risk between the input and output price, which is linked to the same international pricing benchmark, such as London Metal Exchange, is eliminated through use of derivatives. This off-set hedge model (through use of derivatives) is used to manage the timing mis-match risk for the commodity and currency risk (primarily USD/INR). A variety of factors, including the risk appetite of the business and price view, are considered while taking hedging decisions.

iv) Equity Price Risk

Equity price risk is related to change in market reference price of investments in equity securities held by the Company. The Company has no investments, hence the Company is not primarily exposed to equity price risk.

Liquidity risk refers to the risk that the Company cannot meet its financial obligations. The objective of liquidity risk management is to maintain sufficient liquidity and ensure that funds are available for use as per requirements.

The Company has obtained fund and non-fund based working capital facilities from various banks. The Company invests its surplus funds in bank fixed deposit and in mutual funds, which carry no or low market risk.
