MEDIA STATEMENT

There are news reports circulating on social media and other news platforms that makes incorrect claims about damage to 13 BESS containers at ACME Suryodaya BESS facility in Pokhran, Rajasthan. The claim is grossly incorrect as only four power conversion systems (PCS) were affected on account of a localized fire on account of IGBT/short circuit. There has been no damage to any of BESS containers at this facility. The incident was promptly brought under control by our in-house fire safety teams in accordance with established safety protocols.

Overall, the total revenue loss is not material and is estimated to be around INR 20 Lakhs. The damaged equipment's are in the process of being restored from spares within a week.

We remain committed to the timely and transparent disclosure of all material information to its stakeholders. Stakeholders are requested not to rely on any information that has not been officially disclosed by the Company through the stock exchanges or other authorized communication channels.
