Prometric selects Datamatics to support its Global Remote Examination Operations

Mumbai, India, September 29, 2026: Datamatics, a leading global Digital Operations, Experiences and Technologies Company, today announced that Prometric, a global leader in credentialing and skills development, has selected Datamatics to support its remote examination operations globally.

Datamatics will provide 24/7/365 multilingual support in English, Spanish, and French through its delivery centers across India, the Philippines, and Peru. The scalable global delivery model will support key stages of the remote examination journey, including candidate technical readiness, remote exam proctoring, candidate support, security monitoring, quality checks, workforce planning, and performance reporting and governance.

The engagement is designed to help Prometric minimize candidate wait times and service interruptions while maintaining examination security, service quality, and candidate satisfaction scores above 90%. The global delivery model will enable Prometric to scale its remote testing operations while delivering a consistent, seamless, and secure candidate experience across markets.

Joel Beauchamp, Director - Remote Testing Operations, Prometric, said, "For candidates, even a small delay or technical issue on exam day can significantly impact their testing experience. As our remote testing operations grow, we need to ensure candidates receive timely support while maintaining the security and integrity of every examination. Datamatics' multilingual, 24/7 delivery model provides the operational scale, flexibility, and resilience needed to deliver a consistent experience across markets."

Rahul Kanodia, Vice Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Datamatics, said, "The Prometric engagement demonstrates our ability to manage complex, high-volume operations across geographies and languages while maintaining consistent service levels. We build dedicated teams aligned to each client's specific requirements and combine this operating model with technology, automation, and AI-led capabilities. This enables testing and credentialing organizations to improve operational efficiency while delivering a secure, reliable, and seamless candidate experience."

Datamatics partners with leading global technology companies and testing & assessment providers to manage and scale their credentialing and certification programs worldwide.
