Wage strike expected to hit ATMs

Industry players said public-sector banks could be worst impacted by cash-loading stir

MANOJIT SAHA
Mumbai, 13 July

A strike by cash replenishment staff employed by cash management companies such as CMS Info Systems and Hitachi Payment Services in some northern states is expected to affect cash loading in automated teller machines (ATMs), bankers said.

According to sources, the cash-loading staff are demanding a wage revision in Delhi, Haryana, and Uttar Pradesh. The strike, which is already underway, may also affect some southern states, including Karnataka. "The strike is likely to impact cash

The strike may also affect southern states, including Karnataka loading in vendor-managed ATMs. As a result, ATMs in some of these states may run out of cash in the coming days," said an official of a public-sector bank (PSB).

The total number of ATMs including white-label ATMs is around 250,000.

Queries sent to CMS and Hitachi did not elicit a response until the time of going to press.

Industry players said the strike is the result of a stand-off between banks and cash management companies.

In a letter to the Indian Banks' Association last month, the Confederation of ATM Industry (CATMI) said the ATM network is under strain and urged banks to engage directly with operators to resolve the issues before "damage becomes structural".

Industry players said PSBs, with their large ATM networks, could be the worst affected by the strike.

CATMI had said the new wage code has reset the statutory wage base, while fuel prices have been hiked multiple times since the price freeze was lifted in May 2026. The association estimated a near-term increase in operating costs of around 20 per cent.

The association also said monthly ATM cash withdrawals fell from 570 million in January 2025 to 484.3 million in January 2026 — a cumulative decline of 14 per cent over two years.

Breweries association urges Bihar to lift alcohol ban

SHARLEND'SOUZA
Mumbai, 13 July

The Breweries Association of India (BAI) has written to Bihar Chief Minister Nitya Kant Choudhary, urging the state government to lift prohibition on alcohol in a phased and controlled manner.

The letter requested the state to consider withdrawing the liquor ban in phases, starting with the introduction of products with low alcohol content, such as beer and wine, which have an alcohol content below 15 per cent.

In 2016, the state introduced the Bihar Prohibition and Excise Act, 2016, which banned the manufacture, sale and consumption of all alcoholic beverages.

To discourage harmful alcohol consumption, the association asked the state to link taxes to alcohol content through the Alcohol-in-Beverage (AIB) taxation model.

"While most governments tax beverages with higher alcohol content more heavily, the Karnataka government has rolled out an AIB-based taxation framework that sets the amount of tax on the basis of the amount of alcohol in the beverage, regardless of the type of beverage," the letter said.

The association also suggested mandating 75 per cent women employees on factory floors to promote their economic independence.

It proposed levying a de-addiction cess on alcohol to establish at least one de-addiction centre in each of Bihar's 38 districts. Furthermore, it recommended levying a women welfare cess on alcohol sold in Bihar, which would convert excise revenue into a direct and permanent investment in women's welfare across the state. To make its case, the BAI said illegal liquor continues to flow into Bihar. In 2025, 3,775.321 litres of liquor were seized in the state.

In the first two months of 2026, the average monthly seizure reached 370.684 litres, an 18 per cent increase over the 2025 monthly average.

It also said that prohibition has caused Bihar to voluntarily surrender one of the largest sources of own tax revenue available to a state government. "Additionally, the state has lost an additional ₹10,000 crore of indirect tax revenue in the last decade from ancillary industries and the hospitality and logistics sectors," the letter said.

WILDLIFE TRAFFICKING

440 protected animals, 15 kg ivory seized

MONIKA YADAV
New Delhi, 13 July

The Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) has seized more than 440 endangered and protected wild animals, around 15 kg of ivory and elephant ivory articles, and arrested 32 people in a nationwide crackdown on wildlife trafficking, the finance ministry said on Monday.

The intelligence-led operations, carried out across several states over the past week, targeted organised wildlife crime syndicates involved in the illegal trade in protected species and wildlife products.

Among the biggest seizures was an operation near Sujargarh in Rajasthan on July 10, where DRI officers recovered around 10 kg of elephant ivory and apprehended four persons. The accused were handed over to the Forest Department for action under the Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972.

In another operation in

1. Binturong, 2. Ivory tusks, 3. Shikra, 4. Star tortoise, 5. Wolfey monkey

Mysuru, officials seized around 4 kg of elephant ivory and apprehended three persons involved in the illegal trade. The ministry said commercial trade in ivory is prohibited under the Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972, in line with India's obligations under the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES).

The import and export of ivory are also prohibited under the Foreign Trade Policy.

In separate operation, DRI officers in Howrah apprehended two persons and seized two ivory idols suspected to have been smuggled into India from Bangladesh.

The DRI also busted an interstate wildlife trafficking syndicate operating across Maharashtra and West Bengal in a joint operation with the Central Bureau of Investigation's (CBI) Economic Offences Branch, supported by the Wildlife Crime Control Bureau (WCCB).

The operation resulted in the rescue of 15 slow lorises, two binturongs, 28 star tortoises, six Egyptian vultures and two shikra birds. Six accused were arrested by the CBI.

Separately, DRI officers foiled several attempts to smuggle protected wildlife into India through international airports by passengers arriving from Bangkok, Kuala Lumpur and Colombo.

The seizures included albino red-capped turkeys, bearded dragons, African spurred tortoises, Borneo pythons, green iguanas, mangrove monitor lizards, Goeldi's marmosets, yellow-cheeked gibbons and siamang gibbons, among other protected species.

According to the ministry, coordinated operations in Bengaluru, Warangal, Pune, Surat, Chennai, Kolkata, Tiruchirappalli, Madurai, Srikalai, Hojai in Assam, Rajasthan, Mysuru and Howrah also led to the seizure of wildlife products such as pangolin scales, leopard pelts, seahorse-based products and red sanders, besides the rescue of several protected reptiles, birds and mammals.

The operations were carried out in coordination with agencies including the CBI, WCCB, Customs, Airport Intelligence Units, state forest departments and local police.

The finance ministry said the sustained intelligence-led operations underscore DRI's efforts to dismantle organised wildlife trafficking networks and reinforce India's commitment to protecting endangered species under CITES.

जून में लोक वित्त संस्थाओं ने भी 70,000 करोड़ रुपये मुख्य के निर्माण जारी किए। वित्त वर्ष 2027 की पहली तिमाही में जिन क्षेत्रों में अधिक सीपी जारी किए उनमें बैंकों की तरफ से ऋण आवंटन की रफ्तार भी बढ़ गई। इसके अलावा, पहली तिमाही में घोषित बैंक परियोजनाओं में इन क्षेत्रों की हिस्सेदारी लगभग 69 फीसदी थी। एचबीआई रिसेच रिपोर्ट के मुताबिक वित्त वर्ष 2027 की पहली तिमाही में सीपी बाजार का इस्तेमाल करने वाले शीप क्षेत्रों में बैंकों की तरफ से कर्ज भी बढ़ गया। इससे पता चलता है कि कंपनियों बाजार से रकम उठाने के साथ ही बैंकों पर भी निर्भर नहीं आगे चलकर कंपनियों पर रकम का डोसा कम होना। विशेषज्ञों का कहना है कि जहां बैंकों में ऋण आवंटन की वृद्धि दर अच्छी बनी हुई है, वहीं उनकी संभावना: खुदरा, एएसएसआई और चुनिंदा कंपनियों को अधिक कर्ज दिया होगा।
